On October 15, 2021, at 9:00 a.m., counsel for Shure Incorporated and Shure Acquisition Holdings, Inc. (collectively, “Shure” or “Plaintiffs”) and Defendant ClearOne, Inc. (“ClearOne” or “Defendant”) participated in a pretrial conference before this Court pursuant to Rule 16 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure and Local Rule 16.3. D.I. 73 ¶ 19. This Joint Proposed Final Pretrial Order incorporates the Court’s guidance from the pretrial conference.

Pursuant to the Court’s Amended Scheduling Order (D.I. 73), a jury trial will take place beginning on November 1, 2021. The trial will address Shure’s claim that ClearOne infringes U.S. Patent No. D865,723 (“the ’723 Patent”) and Shure’s request for damages,¹ as well as ClearOne’s defenses of noninfringement and invalidity. ClearOne's counterclaims have been severed for a separate trial.

The following matters as to the conduct of the trial have been stipulated by the parties and are hereby ordered by the Court:

I. NATURE OF THE ACTION AND THE PLEADINGS

1. This is an action for design patent infringement. Shure alleges that ClearOne has infringed, and continues to infringe, the '723 patent.
 2. Shure alleges that the '723 patent protects an ornamental design for an array microphone assembly. Shure further alleges that ClearOne infringes the '723 patent by making, using, selling, offering to sell, and importing microphone products including the BMA CT, BMA CTH, COLLABORATE Versa Pro CT, COLLABORATE Versa Lite CT, COLLABORATE Versa Room CT, BMA 360, Aura Xceed BMA, and BMA CTX, including all versions and variants of the foregoing.
 3. ClearOne alleges that the '723 patent is invalid and not infringed.
- A. Pleadings
4. Shure filed its original complaint on July 18, 2019, asserting U.S. Patent No. 9,565,493 ("the '493 patent"), and alleging unfair competition under the Lanham Act, false advertising under the Lanham act, violation of the Delaware Deceptive Trade Practices Act, and tortious interference with business relations. D.I. 1. In its amended complaint filed on September 9, 2019, Shure removed its claim of unfair competition under the Lanham Act and added a claim of unfair competition under Delaware common law. D.I. 19. Through its second amended complaint filed on November 19, 2019, Shure added a claim of infringement of the '723 patent. D.I. 64.
 5. Shure's claim of infringement under the '493 patent was stayed on November 1, 2019. D.I. 53. That stay remains in effect pending ClearOne's appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit. D.I. 391.

6. On September 17, 2021, Shure confirmed to the Court and ClearOne that it was withdrawing its four non-patent claims from assertion at trial. D.I. 548. ClearOne moved for dismissal of these claims with prejudice. D.I. 562. Shure has filed its opposition (D.I. 589) to that motion and ClearOne filed its reply (D.I. 604).

7. ClearOne's currently operative response to Shure's second amended complaint is ClearOne's amended answer and counterclaims filed on July 27, 2020. D.I. 295. In ClearOne's pleading, it denied infringement of the '723 patent and contended the patent is invalid, and also asserted violation of the Delaware Deceptive Trade Practices Act, tortious interference with business relations, and unfair competition under Delaware common law. D.I. 295. Shure filed its answer to ClearOne's counterclaims on August 11, 2020. D.I. 314. While ClearOne's amended answer and counterclaims also included a defense and counterclaim of unenforceability of the '493 patent, D.I. 295, and Shure moved to dismiss that defense and counterclaim, D.I. 312, the Court denied without prejudice that motion to dismiss in view of the stay of the '493 patent, D.I. 389 & 396.

B. Claim Construction

8. On October 15, 2020, the Court issued its Report and Recommendation on claim construction. D.I. 359. The Court construed the '723 patent's claimed design as follows: "The ornamental design for an array microphone assembly, as shown in the solid lines and associated claimed surfaces of Figures 1-6 and described in the specification of the '723 patent. The broken lines in Figures 1-6 of the '723 patent form no part of the claimed design. The square shape of the claimed design is functional." Id. at 20. The Court also did not accept ClearOne's arguments that the claim was indefinite and not enabled at that stage, and instead decided that those arguments should go to the jury. Id. at 23-25. This Report and Recommendation was adopted by the Court on November 12, 2020. D.I. 375.

C. Summary Judgment and Daubert Motions

9. Shure has filed the following summary judgment and Daubert motions:
 - a. Motion for summary judgment on ClearOne's non-patent claims and defense of unclean hands (D.I. 433);
 - b. Motion for summary judgment on ClearOne's inventorship invalidity theory (D.I. 435);
 - c. Motion to exclude testimony of ClearOne's damages expert, Julia Rowe (D.I. 437); and
 - d. Motion to exclude and strike testimony of ClearOne's market expert, Paul Waadevig (D.I. 439).
10. ClearOne has filed the following summary judgment and Daubert motions:
 - a. Motion for summary judgment of invalidity (D.I. 441);
 - b. Motion for summary judgment of noninfringement (D.I. 443);
 - c. Motion to exclude opinions of Shure's design expert, Paul Hatch (D.I. 445);
 - d. Combined motion for summary judgment of no lost profits or disgorgement for Shure's false advertising claims and motion to exclude opinions of Shure's damages expert, Thomas Vander Veen (D.I. 447); and
 - e. Motion for partial summary judgment of no liability for certain alleged false statements (D.I. 449).
11. Of these motions:
 - a. The Court has granted-in-part and denied-in-part Shure's motion to exclude and strike testimony of ClearOne's market expert, Paul Waadevig. D.I. 533.
 - b. On October 7, 2021, the Court denied ClearOne's Motion for Summary Judgment of Invalidity (D.I. 441). D.I. 571.

- c. On September 16, 2021, the Court denied Shure's Motion for Summary Judgment on ClearOne's Inventorship Invalidity Theory (D.I. 435). D.I. 543.
- d. On September 16, 2021, Magistrate Judge Burke issued a Report and Recommendation (D.I. 541) recommending that Shure's Motion for Summary Judgment for Defendant's Business Tort Counterclaims and Affirmative Defense of Unclean Hands (D.I. 433) be granted as to ClearOne's counterclaim under the Delaware Deceptive Trade Practices Act, denied as to ClearOne's counterclaims of tortious interference with business relations and unfair competition, and denied as to ClearOne's unclean hands defense to Shure's then-pending business tort claims. Shure has filed an objection to that Report and Recommendation. D.I. 556. ClearOne has filed a response to Shure's objection. D.I. 566.
- e. On September 17, 2021, Magistrate Judge Burke issued an Order (D.I. 544) granting-in-part and denying-in-part ClearOne's motion to strike certain opinions of Shure's expert, Paul Hatch (D.I. 445). ClearOne has filed an objection to that Report and Recommendation. D.I. 560. Shure has filed a response to ClearOne's objection. D.I. 569.
- f. On September 17, 2021, Magistrate Judge Burke issued a Report and Recommendation (D.I. 545) recommending that ClearOne's Motion for Summary Judgment of Non-Infringement (D.I. 443) be denied. ClearOne has filed an objection to that Report and Recommendation. D.I. 559. Shure has filed a response to ClearOne's objection. D.I. 568.
- g. In light of Shure's withdrawal of its non-patent claims, on October 8, 2021, the Court dismissed as moot ClearOne's partial motion for summary judgment of no liability for certain alleged false statement (D.I. 449). D.I. 572.

h. On October 5, 2021, Magistrate Judge Burke issued a Memorandum Order (D.I. 570) denying Shure's Motion to Exclude Testimony of ClearOne's Damages

Expert, Julia Rowe (D.I. 437).

i. On October 8, 2021, Magistrate Judge Burke issued a Memorandum Order (D.I. 575) granting ClearOne's Motion to Exclude Opinions of Shure's Damages

Expert, Thomas Vander Veen. Shure filed objections to this decision on October 14, 2021 (D.I. 605).

12. ClearOne also filed a motion to strike the supplemental expert reports of Paul Hatch, Ira Weinstein, and Thomas Vander Veen, as well as portions of Shure's Opposition to ClearOne's Motion for Summary Judgment of Non-Infringement. D.I. 484. That motion was granted on September 10, 2021. D.I. 539.

D. Statements Regarding the Scope of the Issues to Be Tried

1. Shure's Statement

13. Shure alleges that ClearOne infringes the '723 patent by making, using, selling, offering to sell, and importing microphone products including the BMA CT, BMA CTH, COLLABORATE Versa Pro CT, COLLABORATE Versa Lite CT, COLLABORATE Versa Room CT, BMA 360, Aura Xceed BMA, and BMA CTX, including all versions and variants of the foregoing.

14. Upon a finding of infringement, Shure is entitled to recover ClearOne's total profits realized from selling the articles of manufacture to which the infringing design has been applied and/or a reasonable royalty.² Shure also seeks recovery of its attorneys' fees in this case because of the exceptional nature of the infringement and the litigation. Shure further seeks pre-judgment and post-judgment interest on any damages award. Shure also seeks a permanent injunction for ClearOne's infringement of the '723 patent.

Order (D.I. 575) granting ClearOne's motion to exclude the reasonable royalty opinions of Shure's damages expert, Dr. Vander Veen. While Shure has refused to meet and confer on this issue, Shure did not disclose an alternate reasonable royalty theory at any point in fact or expert discovery. As such, Shure should not be allowed to present a new, previously undisclosed reasonable royalty opinion to the jury. See MLC Intell. Prop., LLC v. Micron Tech., Inc., No. 2020-1413, 2021 WL 3778405, at *9 (Fed. Cir. Aug. 26, 2021) ("[B]ecause Rule 26(a)(1)(A)(iii) requires timely disclosure of damages information, the district court properly excluded the damages information under Rule 37."). Further, contrary to Shure's suggestion, it is not entitled to reasonable royalty damages if it cannot prove them: "[t]he statute [35 U.S.C. § 284] does not require an award of damages if none are proven[.]" TecSec, Inc. v. Adobe Inc., 978 F.3d 1278, 1291-92 (Fed. Cir. 2020) (affirming an award of zero damages despite a finding of infringement). In addition, assuming that Shure no longer has a reasonable royalty case, now that ClearOne's counterclaims have been severed, the only damages issue remaining is Shure's request for disgorgement under 35 U.S.C. § 289. This is an equitable remedy. See, e.g., Red Carpet Studios v. Midwest Trading Group, Inc., Case No. 12-cv-501, 2021 WL 1172218. *2-3 (S.D. Ohio Mar. 29, 2021) (court, without jury, determining article of manufacture and disgorgement, because "a claim for damages under § 289 is one for equitable relief"); Texas Advanced Optoelectronic Sols., Inc. v. Renesas Elecs. Am., Inc., 895 F.3d 1304, 1324 (Fed. Cir. 2018) ("The apparent fact is that for patent infringement, disgorgement of profits was not historically available at law."). Accordingly, it should be decided by the judge, not the jury.] [Shure's Response: Shure has not refused to meet-and-confer. Instead, on October 11, 2021, the day this Pretrial Order was due to be filed, ClearOne asked that Shure agree to drop all references to a "reasonable royalty" in the parties' pretrial submissions. Shure declined to do so and noted that "[t]here does not appear to be a need to meet and confer on this" specific issue. ClearOne is also wrong to state that reasonable royalty theories are out of the case. ClearOne's own damages expert asserts a reasonable royalty theory. And moreover, a reasonable royalty is required by law as the minimum statutory compensation for patent infringement. 35 U.S.C. § 284. The Federal Circuit has explained that even where expert testimony is not available on a reasonable royalty, the factfinder may still consider the available evidence to set a royalty. Dow Chem. Co. v. Mee Indus., 341 F.3d 1370, 1381-1382 (Fed. Cir. 2003). "A party need not present expert testimony on damages or, as a corollary, on every aspect of damages, such as a single royalty rate." Bayer HealthCare LLC v. Baxalta Inc., 989 F.3d 964, 985 (Fed. Cir. 2021). ClearOne's suggestion that "Shure did not disclose an alternate reasonable royalty theory at any point in fact or expert discovery" is also misleading; ClearOne never served an interrogatory inquiring about a reasonable royalty. In terms of the remedy of infringers' total profits under 35 U.S.C. § 289, Shure explained above (supra note 1) that ClearOne waived such a request and ClearOne is incorrect in any event in urging that infringers' total profits be tried separate from the jury.]

2. ClearOne's Statement

15. ClearOne disputes that it infringes the '723 patent, and asserts the '723 patent is invalid. Specifically, the '723 patent is invalid under 35 U.S.C. ¶¶ 102, 103, and 112. Shure cannot claim priority earlier than the August 6, 2019 filing date of the '723 patent, so it is invalid as anticipated by Shure's prior sales of its MXA910 product. Even if Shure can claim an earlier filing date, the patent is invalid as obvious. The patent is further invalid because it fails to satisfy the requirements of 35 U.S.C. ¶ 112, including enablement and definiteness. ClearOne further contends that Shure's disgorgement request (which, as explained in footnotes 1 and 2 above, should be tried to the judge, not the jury) is inflated, and does not reflect appropriate disgorgement of profits for any alleged infringement. ClearOne contends that pursuant to D.I. 575, Shure's request for a reasonable royalty is no longer at issue in this case in any way. See TecSec, Inc. v. Adobe Inc., 978 F.3d 1278 (Fed. Cir. 2020). As a result, Shure's request for a trebling of damages is also no longer at issue in this case in any way, because such trebling applies only to reasonable royalty or lost profits damages under 35 U.S.C. § 284, and not to disgorgement under 35 U.S.C. § 289. ClearOne further seeks its attorneys' fees and expenses.

II. FEDERAL JURISDICTION

16. This is a civil action arising under the Patent Laws of the United States, 35 U.S.C. § 101 et seq., including §§ 271 and 281-289. The Court has subject matter jurisdiction over this action pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331 and 1338(a). No party contests personal or subject matter jurisdiction.

17. Venue is proper in this judicial district under 28 U.S.C. §§ 1391(b), (c) and 1400(b). No party contests venue.

III. JOINT STATEMENT OF ADMITTED FACTS

A. The Parties

18. Plaintiff Shure³ is a corporation organized under the laws of Illinois with a principal place of business at 5800 W. Touhy Avenue, Niles, Illinois 60714.

19. Defendant ClearOne is a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the State of Delaware, and is headquartered at 5225 Wiley Post Way, Suite 500, Salt Lake City, Utah 84116.

B. The Asserted Patent

20. The '723 patent is titled "Array Microphone Assembly" and was issued on November 5, 2019. The '723 patent issued from U.S. App. No. 29/700,875, filed on August 6, 2019, which claims on its face to be a continuation of U.S. App. No. 15/833,404, filed on December 6, 2017, which claims to be a continuation of U.S. App. No. 15/631,310, filed on June 23, 2017, which claims to be a continuation of U.S. App. No. 15/403,765, filed on January 11, 2017, which claims to be a continuation of U.S. App. No. 14/701,376, filed on April 30, 2015.

21. The '723 patent names three inventors: Elizabeth Ahra Cho, Gregory William Lantz, and John Matthew Miller.

C. The Accused Products

22. The ClearOne products accused of infringing the '723 patent include the BMA CT, BMA CTH, COLLABORATE Versa Pro CT, COLLABORATE Versa Lite CT, COLLABORATE Versa Room CT, BMA 360, Aura Xceed BMA, and BMA CTX, including all versions and variants of the foregoing. ClearOne has made, used, sold, offered for sale, and imported these products in the United States.

³ "Shure" includes Shure Incorporated and Plaintiff Shure Acquisition Holdings, Inc.

D. Shure's MXA910 and Patent Applications

23. The MXA910 was publicly known, in public use, offered for sale, and sold at least as early as February 2016.

24. U.S. Patent No. 9,565,493 is based on U.S. Patent Application No. 14/701,376, filed on April 30, 2015.

25. U.S. Patent Application Publication No. 2016/0323668 was published on November 3, 2016.

IV. STATEMENTS OF ISSUES OF FACT THAT REMAIN TO BE LITIGATED

26. Shure's Statement of Issues of Fact That Remain to Be Litigated is attached as Exhibit 2.

27. ClearOne's Statement of Issues of Fact That Remain to Be Litigated is attached as Exhibit 3.

28. If the Court determines that any issue identified in a party's statement of contested issues of fact is more properly considered an issue of law, it should be so considered.

V. STATEMENTS OF ISSUES OF LAW THAT REMAIN TO BE LITIGATED

29. Shure's Statement of Issues of Law That Remain to Be Litigated is attached as Exhibit 4.

30. ClearOne's Statement of Issues of Law That Remain to Be Litigated is attached as Exhibit 5.

31. If the Court determines that any issue identified in a party's statement of contested issues of law is more properly considered an issue of fact, it should be so considered.

VI. TRIAL EXHIBITS

A. Stipulations Concerning Trial Exhibits and Demonstrative Exhibits

32. Shure's list of exhibits it may offer at trial, including ClearOne's objections, is attached hereto as Exhibit 6. Shure's trial exhibits will be identified with exhibit numbers, starting with X 0001. Shure's demonstrative trial exhibits will be identified starting with D 001. Shure reserves the right to use any exhibit identified by ClearOne, and use exhibits not listed for impeachment. A party's inclusion of an exhibit on their exhibit list in no way, however, waives any objection to the other party's introduction of such exhibit.

33. ClearOne's list of exhibits it may offer at trial, including Shure's objections, is attached hereto as Exhibit 7. ClearOne's trial exhibits will be identified with exhibit numbers, starting with X 0010. ClearOne's demonstrative trial exhibits will be identified starting with D 010. ClearOne reserves the right to use any exhibit identified by Shure, and use exhibits not listed for impeachment. A party's inclusion of an exhibit on their exhibit list in no way, however, waives any objection to the other party's introduction of such exhibit.

34. The parties' respective trial exhibits shall alternate between numerical ranges as follows:

- a. Shure: X 0001 – X 0009
- b. ClearOne: X 0010 – X 0019
- c. Shure: X 0020 – X 0029
- d. ClearOne: X 0030 – X 0039
- e. Shure: X 0040 – X 0049
- f. ClearOne: X 0050 – X 0059
- g. Shure: X 0060 – X 0069
- h. ClearOne: X 0070 – X 0079
- i. Shure: X 0080 – X 0089
- j. ClearOne: X 0090 – X 0099
- k. ClearOne: X 0100 – X 0199

- l. Shure: X 0200 – X 0299
- m. ClearOne: X 0300 – X 0399
- n. ... alternate by hundreds
- o. ClearOne: X 1000 – X 1999
- p. Shure: X 2000 – X 2999
- q. ClearOne: X 3000 – X 3999

35. The same numbering scheme shall apply for demonstrative exhibits, except that a single demonstrative slide deck (e.g., D 0001) will be numbered with its page numbers coming after a decimal point, such that page one will be D 0001.1, page two will be D 0001.2, etc.

36. The parties have agreed to a procedure with respect to demonstrative exhibits that does not require demonstrative exhibits to be included on the trial exhibit lists. Those procedures for the exchange of demonstrative exhibits are addressed separately herein. For purposes of this Pretrial Order, the following “demonstrative exhibits” are not subject to the exchange provisions set forth herein: (1) exhibits created in the courtroom during testimony or opening at trial or (2) the enlargement, highlighting, ballooning, excerption, or other emphasis of a trial exhibit (or parts of a trial exhibit) or a transcript of testimony, as long as the party has identified its intent to use the trial exhibit and/or deposition testimony according to the provisions of this Order, and such ballooning, excerption, highlighting, etc., accurately reflects the content of the exhibit.

37. The exhibit lists attached as Exhibit 6 and Exhibit 7 include citations to the Federal Rules of Evidence to note any objections lodged by the parties. In addition, any exhibits implicated by the parties’ motions in limine are deemed objected to. Exhibits not objected to may be introduced into evidence by the identifying party through any witness competent to testify regarding the exhibit, without the need for additional foundation testimony, provided, however, that an expert may not introduce any exhibit that was not relied upon in any of that expert’s respective report(s) submitted pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 26(a)(2)(B) with the exception of different versions of an exhibit (e.g., more legible copies of the same document).

38. Any description of a document, or any date associated with a document, on an exhibit list is provided for convenience only and shall not be used as an admission or otherwise as evidence regarding that document or any other listed document. Similarly, failing to list a date is neither evidence nor an admission of whether the document is dated.

39. This pretrial order contains the maximum universe of exhibits to be used at trial, as well as all objections to the admission of such exhibits, neither of which shall be supplemented without approval of all parties or leave of the Court, on good cause shown. Exhibits not listed on any party's exhibit list will not be admitted into evidence absent good cause shown or by agreement of the parties. However, any documents, deposition transcripts, or portion thereof, or other items, not specifically identified in any of the exhibit lists or offered into evidence, may still be used at trial for purposes of impeachment, or rehabilitation, if otherwise competent for such purposes, and may be admitted into evidence to the extent consistent with the requirements of the Federal Rules of Evidence.

40. Each party may use an exhibit that is listed on the other party's exhibit list, to the same effect as though it were listed on its own exhibit list, subject to evidentiary objections, and if such evidentiary objections are overruled, any such exhibit may be admitted into evidence. Any exhibit, once admitted, may be used equally by each party. The listing of an exhibit by a party on its exhibit list does not waive any evidentiary or other objections to that exhibit by the listing party should the opposing party attempt to offer it into evidence.

41. The parties agree that any exhibit identified in the lists attached hereto and otherwise unobjectionable may be used and published to the jury in opening statements by the identifying party if the exhibit will be the subject of testimony and introduced by a witness at trial.

42. Each party may use a subset or excerpt of an exhibit as a standalone exhibit, subject to evidentiary objections. Such subset exhibit shall be marked with the entire exhibit's number followed by a letter, for example, X 0001-A.

43. The parties will meet and confer regarding replacing any poor print or digital quality copies of exhibits with substantively identical improved or higher quality or color copies.

44. Legible copies of exhibits may be offered into evidence in lieu of originals, subject to all foundational requirements and other objections that might be made to the admissibility of originals, and subject to the right of the party against whom it is offered to inspect an original upon request reasonably in advance of any proposed use of the copy. Electronic versions of document exhibits in their native format, such as spreadsheets or presentations, may be offered into evidence in lieu of paper or PDF versions. The parties will exchange replacement versions and/or native versions of exhibits prior to use in trial.

45. Legible copies of United States patents and patent applications, including the '723 patent, and their file histories, may be offered into evidence in lieu of certified copies thereof. Further, nothing precludes a party from offering into evidence an original document where the party previously produced a PDF or other electronic copy of the document, provided that party provides the copy it intends to introduce into evidence to the other party.

46. The parties agree that documents created by a party or third party and thereafter produced by that party or third party during the discovery phase of this litigation and identified in Exhibit 6 and Exhibit 7 to this Order are presumed prima facie genuine and authentic. Nothing, however, shall prohibit a party from offering evidence to rebut the presumption, at which point the party presenting the exhibit into evidence must establish its authenticity.

47. The parties will meet and confer in a further effort to refine and shorten their exhibit lists and to resolve objections without the Court's intervention. On or before the first day of trial, each party will deliver to the Courtroom Deputy a completed AO Form 187 exhibit list corresponding to their respective final exhibit lists.

48. Each party shall be permitted, in the morning before a trial day begins, to make an omnibus motion for submission into evidence of exhibits used during the prior trial day. The parties anticipate resolving objections to exhibits before witnesses take the stand, as described in Section B, below.

49. Demonstratives are to be used for illustrative purposes only and will not be entered into evidence. Following the conclusion of trial, demonstratives shown to the jury may be lodged with the Court. The parties do not waive any objection to the admissibility of evidence cited or referenced in any demonstrative exhibit.

50. For purposes of disclosure to the other party, a party shall provide either (1) a color PDF or PowerPoint copy of the demonstrative exhibit it is intending to use; or (2) for videos or animations, a digital interactive format, including, as applicable, flash format, PPT format, MPEG or other video format, of demonstrative video or animation it is intending to use. Further, to the extent necessary, the parties will confer to the extent they are unable to provide a demonstrative in the specified format. For irregularly sized physical demonstrative exhibits, the party seeking to use it shall provide a color representation in 8.5" x 11" PDF format.

51. For each demonstrative exhibit that is based in whole or in part on an admissible trial exhibit, the party intending to use the demonstrative exhibit will disclose, either on the face of the demonstrative exhibit or in an accompanying writing provided at the time the demonstrative exhibit is disclosed to the opposing party, all trial exhibits that form the basis of the demonstrative exhibit.

52. The provisions regarding the exchange of demonstrative exhibits do not apply to demonstrative exhibits created during testimony, demonstrative exhibits to be used for cross examination, or demonstrative exhibits to be used in closing statements, none of which need to be provided to the other side in advance of their use. The parties further agree that notice of a party's intended use of enlargements of trial exhibits and/or deposition testimony and of ballooning, excision, highlighting, jumping-to-a-page, or other emphasis of the particular trial exhibit and/or deposition testimony, need not be provided to the other side in advance of their use, subject to the parties' evidentiary objections and compliance with the provisions of this Pretrial Order governing the use of trial exhibits and/or deposition testimony.

53. During trial, a party providing an exhibit to a witness shall contemporaneously provide a copy to the court reporter.

B. Procedures for the Disclosure of Trial Exhibits and Demonstrative Exhibits

54. A party shall provide, together with its identification of a witness to be called (as provided in Section VII below) a list of trial exhibits to be used in connection with a direct examination of that witness, including any opposing party the party intends to call adversely, by 7:00 p.m. ET two calendar days before their intended use. Any objections by the opposing party will be provided no later than 7:00 p.m. ET the following day. The parties shall meet and confer within three hours of the exchange of objections to resolve any objections. If the parties cannot resolve all objections, the parties will present the outstanding issue or issues to the Court at 9:00 a.m. ET on the trial day when the relevant witnesses or exhibits are intended to be presented.

55. For non-documentary demonstratives, such as physical exhibits, that the parties plan to use at trial during direct examination, but not for cross examination: the parties will identify and make available such non-documentary demonstratives/physical exhibits at 7:00 p.m. ET two calendar days before anticipated use. The following day, the offering party will make the non-documentary demonstrative/physical exhibit available for inspection. The parties will exchange any objections the following day by 7:00 p.m. ET, one calendar day before anticipated use, and meet and confer by 10:00 p.m. ET. If the parties cannot resolve all objections, the parties will present the outstanding issue or issues to the Court at 9:00 a.m. ET on the trial day when the relevant witnesses or exhibits are intended to be presented.

56. A party shall provide demonstrative exhibits to be used in connection with a direct examination by 7:00 p.m. ET one calendar day before their intended use. Objections to any such demonstrative exhibits shall be made by 9:00 p.m. ET that same day. The parties will meet and confer on any objections by 10:00 p.m. ET that same day. If the parties cannot resolve all objections, the parties will present the outstanding issue or issues to the Court at 9:00 a.m. ET on the trial day when the relevant witnesses or exhibits are intended to be presented.

57. With respect to opening statements, the parties shall identify any trial exhibits and demonstrative exhibits they intend to use by 5:00 p.m. ET one calendar day before opening statements. Objections to any such trial exhibits shall be made by 7:00 p.m. ET that same day. The parties will meet and confer on any objections by 8:00 p.m. ET that same day. If the parties cannot resolve any objections, the parties will present the outstanding issue or issues to the Court at 9:00 a.m. ET on the first day of trial.

VII. TRIAL WITNESSES

A. Witnesses to Be Called

58. Shure may call the witnesses identified in Exhibit 8 to testify, either in person or by deposition, at trial in its case-in-chief or in its rebuttal case.

59. ClearOne may call the witnesses identified in Exhibit 9 to testify, either in person or by deposition, at trial in its case-in-chief or in its rebuttal case.

60. Any witness not listed on a party's witness list is precluded from testifying, absent good cause shown, except that each party reserves the right to call rebuttal witnesses as may be necessary, on reasonable notice to the opposing party. No party shall be required to present testimony from any witness on its list of witnesses.

61. Should a party call a witness on the other party's witness list as part of their case in chief, the other party is limited to the scope of the direct examination in cross examination. To the extent cross examination is limited to the scope of direct examination, the parties agree that any such witness will be fully available to be called during that other party's next presentation of evidence.

62. The parties shall each provide a final list of those witnesses they will call in-person in their respective case-in-chief by 7:00 p.m. ET seven calendar days before the beginning of trial, including any opposing party witnesses they intend to call adversely as part of their case in chief. The parties shall each provide a final list of those witnesses they will call in-person in their rebuttal case by 7:00 p.m. ET five calendar days before the beginning of trial. Should a party no longer wish to call a witness and instead wish to just present deposition testimony from them, the party shall notify the other party by 7:00 p.m. ET two (2) calendar days before they are to be called. Further, a party shall identify the specific witnesses it intends to call to testify, excluding opposing party witness they intend to call adversely, on each trial day by 7:00 p.m. ET two (2) calendar days before they are to be called.

B. Testimony by Deposition and Procedures for the Disclosure Thereof

63. With respect to witnesses who will be called to testify by deposition, the parties have designated specific page and line numbers of deposition testimony that they intend to read or play back at trial. New material may not be added without good cause.

64. Shure's preliminary list of designations and ClearOne's objections and counter designations are attached hereto as Exhibit 10.

65. ClearOne's preliminary list of designations and Shure's objections and counter designations are attached hereto as Exhibit 11.

66. A party intending to offer a witness by deposition shall provide the other party with a list of final deposition designations (from the previously designated testimony, and including counter-designations) it intends to introduce by 7:00 p.m. ET two calendar days before the deposition testimony is expected to be read or played in Court. The parties will meet and confer on any objections by 10:00 p.m. ET that same day.

67. Disputed designations shall be submitted to the Court by the party offering the testimony by 9:00 a.m. ET on the day before such deposition testimony is expected to be read or played in Court, except disputed designations expected to be read or played in Court on the first day of trial shall be submitted that day. The submissions of disputed designations to the Court shall include highlighted copies of the disputed materials and an itemized list of the remaining objections.

68. All of the parties' designations, counter-designations, and rebuttal designations will be read or played in chronological order. The party offering the deposition testimony will provide a final video to be played, if applicable, by 10:00 p.m. the night before it is expected to be played in Court. Regardless of whether deposition testimony is read or played by video, the time available for each party's trial presentation shall be reduced by the length of its own designations, counter-designations, and rebuttal designations.

69. The parties will meet and confer to remove irrelevant and redundant material such as objections and colloquy between counsel when the deposition is read or viewed at trial to the extent feasible.

70. Any party may use as a counter designation or rebuttal designation deposition testimony that was previously designated by another party (subject to any objection of the designating party), to the same effect as if it had initially designated the testimony as its own.

71. Subject to the above provisions, the parties may offer some or all of the deposition testimony set forth in the attachments hereto at trial. A party's decision not to introduce some or all of the deposition testimony of a witness designated herein shall not be commented upon at trial.

72. Prior to playing any deposition testimony, the party offering the testimony shall provide the court reporter with an excerpt of the relevant transcript with the relevant designations highlighted.

73. Any deposition testimony may be used at trial for the purpose of impeachment, regardless of whether a party identified that testimony on its list of deposition designations, if the testimony is otherwise competent for such purpose.

74. In order to reduce the number of duplicative exhibits, where a deposition excerpt refers to a document by exhibit number and that identical document was also marked as a different exhibit number, a party may substitute one exhibit for another.

VIII. STATEMENTS OF INTENDED PROOFS

A. Shure's Statement

75. Shure's statement is limited to its expected proof with regard to its patent infringement and damages claims, and does not address the proof that it may choose to present in rebuttal to the defenses that ClearOne may present in its case-in-chief or rebuttal case at trial. Shure's statement is based upon the current status of the case and the Court's current rulings. Shure reserves the right to revise this statement in light of any further decisions or orders of the Court or any new issues raised by ClearOne.

76. Shure intends to establish through its presentation of evidence that ClearOne's making, using, selling, and/or offering for sale of the accused products infringes under 35 U.S.C. § 271(a) the '723 patent.

77. Shure intends to establish through its presentation of evidence that it is entitled to ClearOne's profits and a reasonable royalty⁴ due to ClearOne's infringement of the '723 patent.

78. In the event of a finding of infringement, Shure intends to seek an equitable accounting of any recoverable damages not captured by the verdict, including, but not limited to (1)

⁴ [ClearOne's Position: On Friday, October 8, Magistrate Judge Burke issued a Memorandum Order (D.I. 575) granting ClearOne's motion to exclude the reasonable royalty opinions of Shure's damages expert, Dr. Vander Veen. While Shure has refused to meet and confer on this issue, Shure did not disclose an alternate reasonable royalty theory at any point in fact or expert discovery. As such, Shure should not be allowed to present a new, previously undisclosed reasonable royalty opinion to the jury. See MLC Intell. Prop., LLC v. Micron Tech., Inc., No. 2020-1413, 2021 WL 3778405, at *9 (Fed. Cir. Aug. 26, 2021) ("[B]ecause Rule 26(a)(1)(A)(iii) requires timely disclosure of damages information, the district court properly excluded the damages information under Rule 37."). Further, contrary to Shure's suggestion, it is not entitled to reasonable royalty damages if it cannot prove them: "[t]he statute [35 U.S.C. § 284] does not require an award of damages if none are proven[.]" TecSec, Inc. v. Adobe Inc., 978 F.3d 1278, 1291-92 (Fed. Cir. 2020) (affirming an award of zero damages despite a finding of infringement). In addition, assuming that Shure no longer has a reasonable royalty case, now that ClearOne's counterclaims have been severed, the only damages issue remaining is Shure's request for disgorgement under 35 U.S.C. § 289. This is an equitable remedy. See, e.g., Red Carpet Studios v. Midwest Trading Group, Inc., Case No. 12-cv-501, 2021 WL 1172218, *2-3 (S.D. Ohio Mar. 29, 2021) (court, without jury, determining article of manufacture and disgorgement, because "a claim for damages under § 289 is one for equitable relief"); Texas Advanced Optoelectronic Sols., Inc. v. Renesas Elecs. Am., Inc., 895 F.3d 1304, 1324 (Fed. Cir. 2018) ("The apparent fact is that for patent infringement, disgorgement of profits was not historically available at law."). Accordingly, it should be decided by the judge, not the jury.] [Shure's Response: As discussed above, supra note 3, Shure has not refused to meet-and-confer. Instead, on October 11, 2021, the day this Pretrial Order was due to be filed, ClearOne asked that Shure agree to drop all references to a "reasonable royalty" in the parties' pretrial submissions. Shure declined to do so and noted that "[t]here does not appear to be a need to meet and confer on this" specific issue. ClearOne is also wrong to state that reasonable royalty theories are out of the case. ClearOne's own damages expert asserts a reasonable royalty theory. And moreover, a reasonable royalty is required by law as the minimum statutory compensation for patent infringement. 35 U.S.C. § 284. The Federal Circuit has explained that even where expert testimony is not available on a reasonable royalty, the factfinder may still consider the available evidence to set a royalty. Dow Chem. Co. v. Mee Indus., 341 F.3d 1370, 1381-1382 (Fed. Cir. 2003). "A party need not present expert testimony on damages or, as a corollary, on every aspect of damages, such as a single royalty rate." Bayer HealthCare LLC v. Baxalta Inc., 989 F.3d 964, 985 (Fed. Cir. 2021). ClearOne's suggestion that "Shure did not disclose an alternate reasonable royalty theory at any point in fact or expert discovery" is also misleading; ClearOne never served an interrogatory inquiring about a reasonable royalty. In terms of the remedy of infringers' total profits under 35 U.S.C. § 289, Shure explained above (supra note 1) that ClearOne waived such a request and ClearOne is incorrect in any event in urging that infringers' profits be tried separate from the jury.]

any damages for infringement between the period last addressed by the damages experts and the date of the verdict and (2) any damages for infringement between the date of the verdict and the date of entry of judgment, and/or ClearOne’s cessation of infringement and (3) any damages for the accused products not specifically covered by the jury’s verdict.⁵

79. In the event of a finding of infringement and award of damages, Shure intends to seek any and all recoverable pre-judgment and post-judgment interest.

80. In the event of a finding of infringement, Shure intends to seek an award of an on-going royalty⁶ and attorneys’ fees and costs in this action, including on the basis that this case is an exceptional case under 35 U.S.C. § 285. Shure will also seek a permanent injunction against

⁵ ClearOne objects to the language in point (3) in this sentence. ClearOne believes that Shure has added this language in an attempt to recapture damages theories that the Court struck from the case in striking: (1) the reasonable royalty opinion of Shure’s damages expert; and (2) some of the disgorgement opinion of Shure’s damages expert. D.I. 575. ClearOne disagrees that Shure should be able to seek from the court damages, such as these, for which Shure failed to present admissible expert testimony. See, e.g., TecSec, Inc. v. Adobe Inc., 978 F.3d 1278, 1291-92 (Fed. Cir. 2020) (affirming an award of zero damages despite a finding of infringement because “[t]he statute [35 U.S.C. § 284] does not require an award of damages if none are proven[.]”)

⁶ [ClearOne’s Position: On Friday, October 8, Magistrate Judge Burke issued a Memorandum Order (D.I. 575) granting ClearOne’s motion to exclude the reasonable royalty opinions of Shure’s damages expert, Dr. Vander Veen. While Shure has refused to meet and confer on this issue, Shure has not disclosed an alternate reasonable royalty theory at any point in fact or expert discovery. See fn 8, supra. As such, Shure should not be able to present any “on-going” royalty theory after trial.] [Shure’s Response: As discussed above, Shure has not refused to meet-and-confer. Instead, on October 11, 2021, the day this Pretrial Order was due to be filed, ClearOne asked that Shure agree to drop all references to a “reasonable royalty” in the parties’ pretrial submissions. Shure declined to do so and noted that “[t]here does not appear to be a need to meet and confer on this” specific issue. ClearOne is also wrong to state that reasonable royalty theories are out of the case. ClearOne’s own damages expert asserts a reasonable royalty theory. And moreover, a reasonable royalty is required by law as the minimum statutory compensation for patent infringement. 35 U.S.C. § 284. ClearOne’s suggestion that “Shure did not disclose an alternate reasonable royalty theory at any point in fact or expert discovery” is also misleading; ClearOne never served an interrogatory inquiring about a reasonable royalty.]

ClearOne's ongoing infringement of the '723 patent.

B. ClearOne's Statement

81. ClearOne's statement is limited to its expected proof with regard to its affirmative defenses and does not address the proof that it may choose to present in rebuttal to the claims or defenses that Shure may present at trial or in its rebuttal case. ClearOne's statement is based upon the current status of the case and the Court's current rulings. ClearOne reserves the right to revise this statement in light of any further decisions or orders of the Court or any new issues raised by Shure.

82. ClearOne intends to establish through its presentation of evidence that Shure has not proven that ClearOne has infringed the '723 patent.

83. ClearOne intends to establish through its presentation of evidence that the '723 patent is invalid.

84. In the event of a finding of non-infringement or invalidity, ClearOne intends to seek an award of attorneys' fees and costs incurred in this action, including under 35 U.S.C. § 285.

IX. AMENDMENTS TO THE PLEADINGS

85. Other than ClearOne's pending motion to dismiss certain of Shure's claims with prejudice, described above, the parties do not propose amendments to the pleadings at this time.

X. CERTIFICATION OF GOOD FAITH EFFORTS AT SETTLEMENT

86. The parties have discussed settlement on prior occasions and respectfully submit that a resolution by settlement is not contemplated at this time.

XI. MOTIONS IN LIMINE

87. In accordance with the Court's Amended Scheduling Order, the parties filed motions in limine. D.I. 73 ¶ 20. Copies of the parties' motions are not attached. The Court ruled on some but not all of the motions in limine at the pretrial conference and thereafter on October 15, 2021.

See D.I. 606 & 607.

XII. OTHER MATTERS

A. Jury Trial

88. This is a jury trial.
89. In the morning of each trial day, before trial begins, the parties shall each provide the court reporter a glossary of terms and names that they anticipate being used in the presentation of evidence for that day.
90. The parties shall provide to each other, to the Court, and to the court reporter, copies of any witness binders used during trial.

B. Order of Presentation of Evidence

91. Unless the Court specifies otherwise, the order of presentation of evidence will generally follow the burden of proof, as stated below:
 - a. Opening statements (Shure first, followed by ClearOne);
 - b. Shure's presentation of evidence for issues for which Shure bears the burden of proof (Shure's case-in-chief);
 - c. ClearOne's presentation of evidence rebutting Shure's presentation of evidence in support of Shure's case-in-chief (ClearOne's rebuttal), and ClearOne's presentation of evidence for issues for which ClearOne bears the burden of proof (ClearOne's case-in-chief);
 - d. Shure's presentation of evidence rebutting ClearOne's presentation of evidence in support of ClearOne's case-in-chief;
 - e. Closing arguments (Shure first, followed by ClearOne, [Shure's Position: followed by Shure's rebuttal]).
92. The parties reserve the right to request a different order of presentation of evidence depending on the Court's rulings on dispositive motions, Daubert motions, and other considerations.

C. Length of Trial

93. The case is currently scheduled for a three-day jury trial beginning on November 1, 2021. Each trial day will begin at 9:30 a.m. and the jury will be excused at 5:00 p.m. The trial will be timed, including six hours per side for opening statements and presentation of evidence, not including time for closing statements.

D. Number of Jurors

94. There shall be eight jurors. The Court will conduct jury selection through the struck jury method.

E. Jury Procedures

95. On the first day of trial, each member of the jury will be provided a binder containing the '723 patent, including single-sided printouts of high-resolution SCORE versions of the figures, the figure descriptions, the claim of the '723 patent and its construction, the '493 patent, and several blank sheets for notes. The parties agree to meet and confer on the preparation of the jury binder such that agreement is reached on its content by three calendar days before trial.

96. The parties agree that the jurors be permitted to write notes by hand during the presentations of the parties and that jurors be permitted to bring these notes as well as the provided jury notebook into the deliberation room. The parties further propose that the jurors be instructed not to exchange or share their notes with each other (though they may discuss the contents of their notes) and that the jurors' binders and notes be collected by the clerk each evening after daily recess, and collected and destroyed without review after the jury's discharge.

97. Upon the end of all parties' presentation of evidence, the parties will compile one (1) set of binders for the jury containing copies of all exhibits in evidence. The binders will include a list of any physical exhibits admitted into evidence during the trial, which shall be available to the jury upon request. This set of binders shall be distributed to the jurors before they commence deliberation and shall be collected from the jurors each night before they retire from deliberation.

F. Handling of Confidential Information at Trial

98. The parties agree to follow the provisions in the Protective Order entered in this case (D.I. 92) regarding the confidentiality of exhibits used at trial. The Protective Order, insofar as it restricts the dissemination and use of “Protected Information,” including documents marked “CONFIDENTIAL” or “HIGHLY CONFIDENTIAL,” shall not apply to the introduction of evidence at trial.

99. The parties’ corporate representatives may view another party’s “Protected Information” trial exhibits when shown in the courtroom during trial, though no employee or representative of a party may possess or review the “Protected Information” trial exhibits of the opposing party outside the courtroom.

100. Persons entitled to have access to “CONFIDENTIAL” or “HIGHLY CONFIDENTIAL” information under the Protective Order shall not be excluded from the courtroom and shall have the right to review any information presented by either party at trial, including, but not limited to, exhibits and trial transcripts.

G. Sequestration of Witnesses

101. Pursuant to Federal Rule of Evidence 615, the parties request that the Court prevent fact witnesses, other than witnesses who have already testified and been excused because they are not expected to be further called, from hearing the testimony of other witnesses. The parties further request that in accordance with provision (b) of Rule 615, this exclusion rule will not apply to the officer or employee designated by each party as its representative. The parties further request that expert witnesses disclosed under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 26(a)(2)(B) not be excluded for either fact or expert testimony.

H. Set-Up of Electronic and Computer Devices

102. The parties request that the Court grant access to the Courtroom on Friday, October 29, 2021, the business day before trial begins, to allow them to set up electronic and computer devices to be used during trial. To the extent that both sides will be sharing common equipment in the Courtroom, each side will share the cost of that equipment.

I. Federal Judicial Center Introduction to the Patent System Video

103. The Court will play the Federal Judicial Center Introduction to the Patent System video (2013 version). Before playing the video, the parties propose that the Court provide the following additional commentary regarding design patents:

- a. Patents are granted by the United States Patent and Trademark Office (sometimes called the “Patent Office,” “PTO” or “USPTO”). A patent gives the owner the right to exclude others from making, using, offering to sell, or selling the claimed invention within the United States or importing it into the United States.
- b. I will now show you a video made by the Federal Judicial Center that provides a description of the U.S. Patent System.
- c. The video focuses on utility patents. As the video will note, utility patents focus on “inventions,” and may be granted to anyone who invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, article of manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof.
- d. This case focuses on a different kind of patent: a design patent.
 - a. A design patent focuses on “ornamental design” and may be granted to anyone who invents a new, original, and ornamental design for an article of manufacture.

- e. While the subject matter of these two types of patents differs, the patents themselves and the application process at the USPTO are similar.
- f. [Shure Proposal: A patent includes what is called a “specification.” For a design patent, the specification must contain one or more drawings of the design as well as a description of the drawings, and it serves as a single claim. The “claim” for design patents generally refers to the drawings and how they are described. While the USPTO design patent examiners review the description, the examination process for design patent applications has a special focus on the figures because the claim of the design patent is closely related to the figures.] [ClearOne Proposal: Generally speaking, a design patent has more figures than a utility patent and a shorter “specification,” typically limited to a few paragraphs of figure descriptions. Also, a design patent is limited to a single patent claim and a design patent claim is required to incorporate the figures of the patent].

J. Voir Dire, Jury Instructions, Verdict Form

104. In accordance with the Court’s Amended Scheduling Order and guidance at the pretrial conference, the parties have filed their (i) proposed voir dire, (ii) proposed preliminary jury instructions, and (iii) proposed verdict forms concurrently herewith. D.I. 73 ¶ 21. Areas of dispute are identified therein. Copies of these documents are not attached.

105. The parties will submit their proposed final jury instructions by 8:00 pm on November 1, 2021.

K. Presumption of Validity

106. No party shall make reference to the presumption of validity of a patent in front of the jury, except in the context of the reasonable royalty hypothetical negotiation.

L. Issues Related to COVID-19

107. Given the evolving travel restrictions and guidelines related to the COVID-19 pandemic, the parties will meet-and-confer in good faith to address any accommodations necessary to facilitate witness participation at trial, including any adjustments to whether certain testimony will be presented live or via deposition transcripts.

M. Order to Control the Course of Action

108. This Order shall control the subsequent course of the action, unless modified by the Court.

109. Subject to the approval of the Court, the parties reserve the right to seek leave to supplement or amend this final pretrial order based on subsequent events or by agreement.

PLAINTIFFS' SUPPLEMENTAL INITIAL DISCLOSURES IDENTIFYING DEFENDANT'S ACCUSED PRODUCTS AND PLAINTIFFS' ASSERTED PATENTS

Plaintiffs Shure Incorporated and Shure Acquisition Holdings, Inc. (collectively, "Shure"), provide these initial disclosures to Defendant ClearOne, Inc. ("ClearOne"), in accordance with Paragraph 7(a) of the Amended Scheduling Order and Paragraph 4(a) of the Court's Default Standard for Discovery, Including Discovery of Electronically Stored Information. These disclosures are based on information reasonably available to Shure as of this date. Shure reserves the right to supplement or modify these disclosures as additional information becomes available, as its investigation continues, or through discovery in this action.

I. Accused Products

Based upon information reasonably available to Shure at this time, the accused products in this case include ClearOne's BMA CT, for example as identified by Part Numbers 910-3200-205 and 910-3200-205-I, as well as any reasonably similar products (e.g., the COLLABORATE Versa Pro CT, BMA CTH, etc.) that ClearOne may introduce in the future. As alleged in Shure's Second Amended Complaint, the accused products infringe through ClearOne and/or its customers making, using, offering to sell, selling, and/or importing the accused products in the United States. Dkt. 19 ¶¶ 26-41, 71-81.

II. Asserted Patent

Based on information reasonably available to Shure at this time, the asserted patents include U.S. Patent Nos. 9,565,493, titled “Array Microphone System and Method of Assembling the Same” (the “‘493 patent”) and D865,723, titled “Array Microphone Assembly” (the “‘723 patent”).

III. File Histories

Shure has produced certified copies of the file histories for the ‘493 patent (SHURE00000001 - SHURE00000494) and ‘723 patent (SHURE00000495 - SHURE00000665).

IV. Damages Model

Based on information reasonably available to Shure at this time, Shure seeks a reasonable royalty and compensation for its lost profits based on ClearOne’s direct and indirect infringement of the ‘493 and ‘723 patents, as well as for ClearOne’s willful infringement of both patents. Shure also seeks recovery based on ClearOne’s “total profit” with respect to ClearOne’s infringement of the ‘723 patent under 35 U.S.C. § 289. In addition, Shure seeks recovery for convoyed sales and derivative sales tied to ClearOne’s infringement. Shure also seeks to recover pre-judgment and post-judgment interest based on its recoverable damages.

With respect to Shure’s non-patent claims, and without admitting that disclosures are required here for such claims, Shure seeks damages as set forth in the Second Amended Complaint in the Prayer for Relief. This includes, without limitation, damages based on ClearOne’s violation of 15 U.S.C. § 1125(a)(1)(B); damages pursuant to 6 Del. C. §§ 2532, 2533 based on ClearOne's violation of the Delaware Deceptive Trade Practices Act, 6 Del. C. § 2532; attorneys' fees, costs, and enhanced damages under 6 Del. C. § 2533(b), (c) based on ClearOne's violation of 6 Del. C. § 2532; and damages based on ClearOne's common law torts of interference with business relations and unfair competition.

Shure's Statement of Issues of Fact that Remain to Be Litigated

Plaintiffs Shure Incorporated and Shure Acquisition Holdings, Inc. (collectively, "Shure" or "Plaintiffs") allege that defendant ClearOne, Inc. ("ClearOne") infringes U.S. Patent No. D865,723 ("the '723 Patent"). At trial, Shure will seek damages to compensate for ClearOne's infringement. Following trial, to the extent appropriate, Shure further intends to seek pre-judgment and post-judgment interest, an accounting for any infringement excluded from the jury verdict, ongoing royalties, costs pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 284, attorneys' fees pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 285, and a permanent injunction.

This Statement of Issues of Fact that Remain to be Litigated is based on the arguments Shure expects to make to establish infringement and Shure's understanding of the arguments that ClearOne is likely to make in support of its defenses. This Statement of Issues of Fact that Remain to be Litigated is also based on the Court's ruling at the pretrial conference on October 15, 2021, bifurcating ClearOne's counterclaims into a separate trial. Shure thus does not address here issues relating to ClearOne's counterclaims. Shure reserves the right to modify and/or supplement this statement should the Court issue any subsequent rulings.

To the extent the factual arguments ClearOne puts forth are different from or additional to Shure's understanding, Shure reserves the right to modify and/or supplement this statement and contest those factual arguments and to present any and all rebuttal evidence in response to those arguments. By providing this statement, Shure does not concede that all the recited issues are appropriate for trial.

This statement is not exhaustive and Shure reserves the right to prove or rebut any issues identified in the pleadings, discovery, or expert reports. To the extent any issue identified in Shure's Statement of Issues of Law that Remain to be Litigated, set forth in Exhibit 4, is more appropriately considered an issue of fact, those issues are incorporated herein by reference. Likewise, to the extent any issue identified in this Exhibit is more appropriately considered an issue of law, Shure incorporates such issue by reference to Exhibit 4.

I. INFRINGEMENT

1. Whether Shure has proven by a preponderance of the evidence that ClearOne has infringed the sole claim of the '723 patent under 35 U.S.C. §§ 271(a), 289 through the making, use, sale, offer for sale, and importation in the United States of microphone array products, including the BMA CT, BMA CTH, COLLABORATE Versa Pro CT, COLLABORATE Versa Lite CT, COLLABORATE Versa Room CT, BMA 360, Aura Xceed BMA, and BMA CTX ("BMA Products").

2. Who the ordinary observer is for the '723 patent, which Shure contends is a typical purchaser of microphone arrays, i.e., a purchaser or IT technician employed at a corporation, and/or an individual who duties include, among other things, the selection of fixtures or electronic devices for commercial spaces. The ordinary observer may encounter such devices either in a retail environment or online.

II. ARTICLE OF MANUFACTURE

3. Whether ClearOne has proven by a preponderance of the evidence that the claimed design of the '723 patent is directed to a multi-component article of manufacture, and if so, the identity of the component of the article of manufacture to which the claimed design has been applied.

III. DAMAGES FOR INFRINGEMENT AND OTHER RELIEF

4. Whether Shure's MXA-910 products practice the sole claim of the '723 patent.

5. The amount of total profits under 35 U.S.C. § 289 that Shure is owed from ClearOne due to ClearOne's infringement of the '723 patent.

6. The amount of reasonable royalty damages that Shure is owed from ClearOne due to ClearOne's infringement of the '723 patent.

7. Whether Shure has established that this is an exceptional case and that it is entitled to an award of attorneys' fees and costs under 35 U.S.C. § 285, and if so, the amount.

8. Whether Shure is entitled to permanent injunctive relief enjoining ClearOne from further infringement of the '723 patent, or alternatively, whether it is entitled to an on-going royalty, and if so, how much.

IV. VALIDITY

9. Whether ClearOne has proven by clear and convincing evidence that the sole claim of the '723 patent is invalid under 35 U.S.C. § 102 by operation of the on-sale bar.

10. Whether the claim of the '723 patent is entitled to a priority date of April 30, 2015.

11. Who a designer of ordinary skill is for the '723 patent, which Shure contends is a designer of ordinary skill is an Industrial Designer with a degree in Industrial Design or Product Design, with approximately two (2) years of professional design experience, including experience in consumer product design, or a designer without a degree may be an ordinary designer if they have approximately two (2) to four (4) years of experience designing electronic devices, such as microphone array assemblies.

12. Whether ClearOne has proven by clear and convincing evidence that the sole claim of the '723 patent is invalid under 35 U.S.C. § 103 as obvious.

- a. The scope and content of the prior art.
- b. The differences between the claimed inventions and the prior art.
- c. The level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
- d. Whether a person of ordinary skill in the art would be motivated to combine references relied upon by ClearOne in its obviousness combination.
- e. Whether the design of the Nailor 4330 CB product is basically the same as the design claimed in the '723 patent.
- f. Whether other prior art references are “so related” to the primary reference that each may be used to modify the Nailor 4330 CB design to create a design that has the same overall visual appearance as the design claimed in the '723 patent.
- g. Whether secondary considerations support a finding of non-obviousness, including whether they outweigh any prima facie showing of obviousness, such considerations including commercial success, copying, long-standing problem or need, prior failure of others, commercial acquiescence of competitors, skepticism, lack of independent development by others, prior litigation, and unexpected results.

13. Whether copying as a secondary consideration supports a finding of non-obviousness regarding the '723 patent.

14. Whether commercial success as a secondary consideration supports a finding of non-obviousness regarding the '723 patent.

15. Whether industry praise as a secondary consideration supports a finding of non-obviousness regarding the '723 patent.

16. Whether secondary considerations of non-obviousness outweigh any showing regarding the alleged obviousness of the sole claim of the '723 patent.

17. Whether ClearOne has proven by clear and convincing evidence that the sole claim of the '723 patent is invalid under 35 U.S.C. § 112 for lack of definiteness or enablement.

V. PRE-JUDGMENT INTEREST

18. The amount of pre-judgment interest on any damages awarded to Shure.

VI. POST-JUDGMENT INTEREST

19. The amount of any post-judgment interest on any damages awarded to Shure.

VII. COSTS

20. The amount of Shure's recoverable costs.

VIII. ATTORNEYS' FEES

21. The amount of Shure's recoverable attorneys' fees.

DEFENDANT AND COUNTERCLAIM PLAINTIFF CLEARONE'S STATEMENT OF ISSUES OF FACT REMAINING TO BE LITIGATED

Defendant and Counterclaim Plaintiff ClearOne, Inc. (“ClearOne”) respectfully submits the following Statement of Facts Remaining to Be Litigated at the November 1, 2021 trial based on ClearOne’s current understanding of the claims asserted by Plaintiff and Counterclaim Defendant Shure Incorporated and Shure Acquisition Holdings, Inc. (collectively, “Shure”), and particularly in light of the Court’s ruling at the pretrial conference on October 15, 2021, severing ClearOne’s counterclaims into a separate trial.

ClearOne reserves the right to revise, amend, supplement or modify its statement based upon any pretrial rulings by the Court and/or to address any additional issues, arguments, evidence or other developments in the case, including edits to the draft pretrial order, any meet and confers or other negotiations between the parties, pending and anticipated motions, and similar developments. ClearOne further reserves the right to supplement this statement to rebut or otherwise address the contested facts identified by Shure. Should the Court determine that any issue identified in this statement is more properly considered an issue of law, it shall be so considered and ClearOne incorporates it by reference into its Statement of Issues of Law Remaining to Be Litigated. ClearOne contends that the issues of fact (or mixed questions of fact and law) that remain to be litigated at trial are as follows:

I. INVALIDITY OF THE '723 PATENT

1. Whether ClearOne has shown by clear and convincing evidence that U.S. Patent No. D865,723 (“the ‘723 patent”) cannot claim priority to the disclosure of U.S. Patent No. 9,565,493 (“the ‘493 patent”) and is invalid as anticipated by Shure’s MXA910 and/or ClearOne’s BMA Accused Products.

2. Whether ClearOne has shown by clear and convincing evidence that the design of the ‘723 patent would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the alleged invention.

3. Whether ClearOne has shown by clear and convincing evidence that the '723 patent is indefinite and/or not enabled.

4. If ClearOne prevails on invalidity or non-infringement of the '723 patent, whether ClearOne is entitled to attorneys' fees and expenses under 35 U.S.C. § 285.

II. SHURE'S PATENT CLAIM¹

A. Infringement

5. Whether Shure has proven by a preponderance of the evidence that ClearOne has infringed the '723 patent through the making, use, sale, offer for sale, and importation in the United States of microphone array products, including the BMA CT, BMA CTH, COLLABORATE Versa Pro CT, COLLABORATE Versa Lite CT, COLLABORATE Versa Room CT, BMA 360, Aura Xceed BMA, and BMA CTX ("BMA Products").

6. Who the ordinary observer is for the '723 patent, which ClearOne contends is either: (1) a sophisticated organizational end-user purchaser of installed audio-conferencing equipment; or (2) a specialized intermediary in the audio-visual market, such as a distributor, integrator, consultant, and installer.

B. Damages²

7. Whether Shure has proven by a preponderance of the evidence that the BMA Products are the "article of manufacture" to which the claimed design has been applied.

8. What amount of total profits under 35 U.S.C. § 289 Shure has proven it is owned by a preponderance of the evidence from ClearOne due to ClearOne's alleged infringement of the '723 patent.

¹ ClearOne reserves the right to identify issues of fact on all issues on which Shure bears the burden of proof, regardless of whether those issues are raised by a Shure claim or a ClearOne affirmative defense, including, for example, non-infringement of the '723 Patent. ClearOne reserves all rights with respect to the stayed and severed claims in the case.

² ClearOne reserves the right to identify additional issues of fact related to reasonable royalty damages if the Court sustains Shure's forthcoming objection on D.I. 575.

9. Whether Shure has established that this is an exceptional case and that it is entitled to an award of attorneys' fees and costs under 35 U.S.C. § 285, and if so, the amount.

10. Whether Shure is entitled to permanent injunctive relief enjoining ClearOne from further infringement of the '723 patent, or alternatively, whether it is entitled to an on-going royalty, and if so, how much.

III. COSTS

11. The amount of ClearOne's recoverable costs.

IV. ATTORNEYS' FEES

12. The amount of ClearOne's recoverable attorneys' fees.

Shure's Statement of Issues of Law that Remain to Be Litigated

Plaintiffs Shure Incorporated and Shure Acquisition Holdings, Inc. (collectively, “Shure” or “Plaintiffs”) allege that defendant ClearOne, Inc. (“ClearOne”) infringes U.S. Patent No. D865,723 (“the ’723 Patent”). At trial, Shure will seek damages to compensate for ClearOne’s infringement. Following trial, to the extent appropriate, Shure further intends to seek pre-judgment and post-judgment interest, an accounting for any infringement excluded from the jury verdict, ongoing royalties, costs pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 284, attorneys’ fees pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 285, and a permanent injunction.

This Statement of Issues of Law that Remain to be Litigated is based on the arguments Shure expects to make to establish infringement and Shure’s understanding of the arguments that ClearOne is likely to make in support of its defenses. This Statement of Issues of Law that Remain to be Litigated is also based on the Court’s ruling at the pretrial conference on October 15, 2021, bifurcating ClearOne’s counterclaims into a separate trial. Shure thus does not address here issues relating to ClearOne’s counterclaims. Shure reserves the right to modify and/or supplement this statement should the Court issue any subsequent rulings.

To the extent the legal arguments ClearOne puts forth are different from or additional to Shure's understanding, Shure reserves the right to modify and/or supplement this statement and contest those legal arguments and to present any and all rebuttal evidence in response to those arguments. By providing this statement, Shure does not concede that all the recited issues are appropriate for trial.

This statement is not exhaustive and Shure reserves the right to prove or rebut any issues identified in the pleadings, discovery, or expert reports. To the extent any issue identified in Shure's Statement of Issues of Fact that Remain to be Litigated, set forth in Exhibit 2, is more appropriately considered an issue of law, those issues are incorporated herein by reference. Likewise, to the extent any issue identified in this Exhibit is more appropriately considered an issue of fact, Shure incorporates such issue by reference to Exhibit 2.

I. ISSUES ON WHICH SHURE BEARS THE BURDEN OF PROOF

A. Design Patents Generally

1. In general, statutes and cases that apply to utility patents apply to design patents, unless there is a design-specific statute or decision. See 35 U.S.C. § 171(b) ("The provisions of [Title 35, Patents] relating to patents for inventions shall apply to patents for designs, except as otherwise provided."); Automotive Body Parts Assoc. v. Ford Global Techs., LLC, 930 F.3d 1314, 1322 (Fed. Cir. 2019) ("[W]e apply the same rules to design and utility patents whenever possible.").

B. Patent Infringement

2. Shure will prove by a preponderance of the evidence that ClearOne directly infringes the claim and the figures of the '723 patent by making, using, selling, offering for sale, and/or importing into the United States the accused products, including ClearOne’s BMA CT, BMA CTH, COLLABORATE Versa Pro CT, COLLABORATE Versa Lite CT, COLLABORATE Versa Room CT, BMA 360, Aura Xceed BMA, and BMA CTX (“BMA Products”).

3. Design patent infringement like utility patent infringement is governed by 35 U.S.C. § 271, but 35 U.S.C. § 289 also applies to design patent infringement and sets forth an additional remedy of “to the extent of [the infringer’s] total profit” for applying to an article of manufacture the patented design, or any colorable imitation for the purpose of sale or selling or exposing for sale any such article of manufacture. See 35 U.S.C. § 289.

4. “Design patent infringement is a question of fact, which a patentee must prove by a preponderance of the evidence.” Richardson v. Stanley Works, Inc., 597 F.3d 1288, 1295 (Fed. Cir. 2010).

5. The standard for assessing design patent infringement is whether, “in the eye of an ordinary observer, giving such attention as a purchaser usually gives, two designs are substantially the same, if the resemblance is such as to deceive such an observer, inducing him to purchase one supposing it to be the other, the first one patented is infringed by the other.” Gorham Co. v. White, 81 U.S. 511, 528 (1871). “[M]inor differences” should not prevent a finding of infringement. Id. at 517. In 2008, the Federal Circuit modified the Gorham test to make clear that the test is conducted “in light of the prior art” by “applying the ordinary observer test through the eyes of an observer familiar with the prior art.” Egyptian Goddess, Inc. v. Swisa, Inc., 543 F.3d 665, 677 (Fed. Cir. 2008) (en banc).

6. The analysis of design patent infringement is conducted in two parts. The first step is to consider whether the claimed design and accused products are “sufficiently distinct,” also known as “plainly dissimilar.” Ethicon Endo-Surgery, Inc. v. Covidien, Inc., 796 F.3d 1312, 1335 (Fed. Cir. 2015) (citing Egyptian Goddess, 543 F.3d at 678).

7. “[W]hen the claimed and accused designs are not plainly dissimilar, resolution of the question whether the ordinary observer would consider the two designs to be substantially the same will benefit from a comparison of the claimed and accused designs with the prior art[.]” Egyptian Goddess, 543 F.3d at 678. “[I]f the accused design has copied a particular feature of the claimed design that departs conspicuously from the prior art, the accused design is naturally more likely to be regarded as deceptively similar to the claimed design, and thus infringing.” Id. at 677.

8. “Differences, however, must be evaluated in the context of the claimed design as a whole, and not in the context of separate elements in isolation. Where . . . the claimed design includes several elements, the fact finder must apply the ordinary observer test by comparing similarities in overall designs, not similarities of ornamental features in isolation.” Ethicon, 796 F.3d at 1335 (citing Richardson, 597 F.3d at 1295). See also Crocs, Inc. v. Int'l Trade Comm'n, 598 F.3d 1294, 1303-04 (Fed. Cir. 2010). “The mandated overall comparison is a comparison taking into account significant differences between the two designs, not minor or trivial differences that necessarily exist between any two designs that are not exact copies of one another.” Int'l Seaway Trading Corp. v. Walgreens Corp., 589 F.3d 1233, 1243 (Fed. Cir. 2009).

9. “[I]f the accused infringer elects to rely on the comparison [to] prior art as part of its defense against the claim of infringement, the burden of production of that prior art is on the accused infringer.” Egyptian Goddess, 543 F.3d at 678-79.

10. Design patent infringement is determined through the “eyes of the ordinary observer.” Gorham, 81 U.S. at 528. The ordinary observer is a hypothetical person who is “not an expert in the claimed designs” but rather “one of ordinary acuteness who is a principal purchaser[]” of the product. Ethicon, 796 F.3d at 1337. Under Gorham, the ordinary observer is seeing through the “eyes of men generally” and not individuals “versed in designs in the particular trade in question” or “engaged in the manufacture or sale of articles containing such designs.” Gorham, 81 U.S. at 527-28. See also Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. v. Hercules Tire & Rubber Co., Inc., 162 F.3d 1113, 1117 (Fed. Cir. 1998) (finding no error in considering “only the actual use of the accused infringing tread as the field of purchase by the ordinary observer” who is not an expert). More recently, the Federal Circuit has noted that the ordinary observer is one who is “aware of the great number of closely similar prior art designs” and “conversant with the prior art.” Egyptian Goddess, 543 F.3d at 676, 678.

C. Article of Manufacture

11. 35 U.S.C. § 289 sets forth an infringer’s total profits as an additional remedy for design patent infringement. Section 289 states (emphasis added):

Whoever during the term of a patent for a design, without license of the owner, (1) applies the patented design, or any colorable imitation thereof, to any article of manufacture for the purpose of sale, or (2) sells or exposes for sale any article of manufacture to which such design or colorable imitation has been applied shall be liable to the owner to the extent of his total profit, but not less than $250, recoverable in any United States district court having jurisdiction of the parties.

Nothing in this section shall prevent, lessen, or impeach any other remedy which an owner of an infringed patent has under the provisions of this title, but he shall not twice recover the profit made from the infringement.

12. Section 289 allows a patent holder to recover the total profit an infringer makes from the infringement. “The ‘total profit’ for which §289 makes an infringer liable is thus all of the profit made from the prohibited conduct, that is, from the manufacture or sale of the ‘article of manufacture to which [the patented] design or colorable imitation has been applied.””

Samsung Elecs. Co. Ltd. v. Apple, 137 S. Ct. 429, 434 (2016).

13. The Supreme Court found the calculation of total profits to be a two-step process.

First, “identify the ‘article of manufacture’ to which the infringed design has been applied.” Id.

Second, “calculate the infringer’s total profit made on that article of manufacture.” Id.

14. With respect to the first step, the Court started by making a distinction between single-component articles of manufacture and multi-component articles of manufacture. “In the case of a design for a single-component product, such as a dinner plate, the product is the ‘article of manufacture’ to which the design has been applied. In the case of a design for a multicomponent product, such as a kitchen oven, identifying the ‘article of manufacture’ to which the design has been applied is a more difficult task.” Id.

15. The Supreme Court held that in the case of a multicomponent product, the relevant “article of manufacture” for arriving at a § 289 damages award need not be the end product sold to the consumer but may be only a component of that product. But the Supreme Court declined to adopt a test for identifying whether an infringing product was a single component or multi-component article of manufacture.

16. No appellate court has further considered this test. However, the Solicitor General’s brief to the Supreme Court in Samsung v. Apple is instructive. “While the plaintiff bears the ultimate burden of establishing the infringer’s total profit, the defendant, as the manufacturer or seller of the product in question, should bear the burden of identifying any component that it views as the relevant article of manufacture.” Solicitor General’s Brief at 9, available at <http://www.scotusblog.com/wpcontent/uploads/2016/06/15-777npUnitedStates.pdf> (accessed April 17, 2020).

17. Further in its brief, the Solicitor General set forth a four-factor test for determining the underlying article of manufacture:

- a. “the scope of the design claimed in the plaintiff’s patent, including the drawing and written description, provides insight into which portions of the underlying product the design is intended to cover, and how the design relates to the product as a whole. In addition, the patent identifies the article of manufacture that the patentee views as the article to which the design is applied. MPEP § 1503.01.” Id. at 27-28.
- b. “the factfinder should examine the relative prominence of the design within the product as a whole. If the design is a minor component of the product, like a latch on a refrigerator, or if the product has many other components unaffected by the design, that fact suggests that the “article” should be the component embodying the design. Conversely, if the design is a significant attribute of the entire product, affecting the appearance of the product as a whole, that fact might suggest that the “article” should be the product[.]” Id. at 28.
- c. “the factfinder should consider whether the design is conceptually distinct from the product as a whole... If the product contains other components that embody conceptually distinct innovations, it may be appropriate to conclude that a component is the relevant article.” Id. at 29-30.
- d. “the physical relationship between the patented design and the rest of the product may reveal that the design adheres only to a component of the product. If the design pertains to a component that a user or seller can physically separate from the product as a whole, that fact suggests that the design has been applied to the component alone rather than to the complete product.” Id. at 29.

18. According to the Solicitor General, “[t]he task of identifying the relevant article of manufacture is properly assigned to the finder of fact. Context-specific judgments about the relationship of the design to the article as a whole—the design’s effect on the product’s appearance, the components’ physical separability, how the components are manufactured—are quintessentially factual in nature.” Id. at 29. Further, “[t]reating the identification of the relevant ‘article of manufacture’ as a jury question is consistent with the jury’s role in determining design patent infringement, and with this Court’s longstanding recognition across a variety of doctrinal contexts that, when the relevant question is how an ordinary person or community would make an assessment, the jury is generally the decisionmaker that ought to provide the fact-intensive answer.” Id. at 30 (internal citations omitted).

19. Finally, in the Solicitor General’s view, “[t]he defendant should bear the burden of producing evidence that the relevant ‘article of manufacture’ in a particular case is a portion of an entire product as sold. The plaintiff bears the ultimate burden of establishing the amount of the defendant’s total profit. But once the plaintiff has shown that the defendant profited by exploiting a product containing the plaintiff’s patented design, the defendant should be required to identify, through the introduction of admissible evidence, the component that the defendant asserts is the article to which the design was applied. The defendant, as the manufacturer or seller of the accused product, has superior knowledge of the identity of the product’s components, as well as of some of the factors relevant to the “article” determination, including the physical relationship between the design and the product; the manner in which the product is manufactured; and the extent to which the product reflects the innovations of parties other than the plaintiff.” Id. at 30 (internal citations omitted).

D. Patent Damages

20. “[T]he amount of a prevailing party’s damages is a finding of fact on which the plaintiff bears the burden of proof by a preponderance of the evidence.” Smithkline Diagnostics, Inc. v. Helena Labs. Corp., 926 F.2d 1161, 1164 (Fed. Cir. 1991).

21. Upon a finding of infringement of valid patent claims, a patentee is entitled to “damages adequate to compensate for the infringement, but in no event less than a reasonable royalty for the use made of the invention by the infringer, together with interest and costs as fixed by the court.” 35 U.S.C. § 284; Dow Chem. Co. v. Mee Indus., Inc., 341 F.3d 1370, 1381-82 (Fed. Cir. 2003). The reasonable royalty may be based on a determination of “the royalty upon which the parties would have agreed had they successfully negotiated an agreement just before infringement began” the “hypothetical negotiation.” Lucent Techs., Inc. v. Gateway, Inc., 580 F.3d 1301, 1324 (Fed. Cir. 2009). In determining a reasonable royalty, courts apply the fifteen factors enunciated in Georgia-Pacific Corp. v. U.S. Plywood Corp., 318 F. Supp. 1116, 1120 (S.D.N.Y. 1970), modified and aff’d, 446 F.2d 295 (2d Cir. 1971). See Unisplay, S.A. v. Am. Elec. Sign Co., 69 F.3d 512, 517 n.7 (Fed. Cir. 1995) (citing Georgia-Pacific factors).

22. The presence or absence of “non-infringing alternatives” is a “core economic question” in a hypothetical negotiation. See Aqua Shield v. Inter Pool Cover Team, 774 F.3d 766, 770 (Fed. Cir. 2014) (“In hypothetical negotiation terms, the core economic question is what the infringer, in a hypothetical pre-infringement negotiation under hypothetical conditions, would have anticipated the profit-making potential of use of the patented technology to be, compared to using noninfringing alternatives.”); AstraZeneca AB v. Apotex Corp., 782 F.3d 1324, 1334-35 (Fed. Cir. 2015) (“[I]f avoiding the patent would be difficult, expensive, and time-consuming, the amount the infringer would be willing to pay for a license is likely to be greater”).

23. A patentee need not prove its damages with absolute certainty. See W.R. Grace & Co.-Conn. v. Intercat, Inc., 60 F. Supp. 2d 316, 321 (D. Del. 1999) (citing Lam, Inc. v. Johns-Manville Corp., 718 F.2d 1056, 1065 (Fed. Cir. 1983)). “[I]t will be enough if the evidence show [sic] the extent of the damages as a matter of just and reasonable inference, although the result be only approximate.” Story Parchment Co. v. Paterson Paper Co., 282 U.S. 555, 563 (1931). Moreover, “[a]ny doubt about the correctness [of damages] is resolved against the infringer.” State Indus., Inc. v. Mor-Flo Indus., Inc., 883 F.2d 1573, 1577 (Fed. Cir. 1989); Lam, 718 F.2d at 1064; W.R. Grace, 60 F. Supp. 2d at 321. “[F]undamental principles of justice require us to throw the risk of any uncertainty upon the wrongdoer instead of upon the injured party.” Paper Converting Mach. Co. v. Magna-Graphics Corp., 745 F.2d 11, 22 (Fed. Cir. 1984).

24. Under 35 U.S.C. § 289 and the Supreme Court’s decision in Samsung, upon a finding of infringement of a design patent, the defendant is liable for its total profits on the article of manufacture. Absent marking, total profits is calculated as the profits from the article of manufacture the time the patent owner gave notice of the infringement.

25. Profit is determined by deducting certain expenses from gross revenue. Gross revenue is all of the infringer’s receipts from using the design in the sale of the infringing products (for a single component article of manufacture) or sale of the infringing component(s) (for multi-component articles of manufacture). Shure has the burden of proving ClearOne’s gross revenue by a preponderance of the evidence. Nike, Inc. v. Wal-Mart Stores, Inc., 138 F.3d 1437, 1447-48 (Fed. Cir. 1998); Braun, Inc. v. Dynamics Corp. of Am., 975 F.2d 815, 824 (Fed. Cir. 1992); Trans-World Mfg. Corp. v. A1 Nyman & Sons, Inc., 750 F.2d 1552, 1566-68 (Fed. Cir. 1984); Bergstrom v. Sears, Roebuck & Co., 496 F. Supp. 476, 495 (D. Minn. 1980).

26. Expenses can include costs incurred in producing the gross revenue, such as the cost of the goods. Other costs may be included as deductible expenses if they are directly attributable to the sales of the infringing products resulting in a nexus between the infringing products and the expense. ClearOne has the burden of proving the deductible expenses and the portion of the profit attributable to factors other than use of the infringed design by a preponderance of the evidence. Nike, Inc. v. Wal-Mart Stores, Inc., 138 F.3d 1437, 1447-48 (Fed. Cir. 1998).

27. To obtain a permanent injunction, a patent holder must show “(1) that it has suffered an irreparable injury; (2) that remedies available at law . . . are inadequate to compensate for that injury; (3) that, considering the balance of hardships between the plaintiff and defendant, a remedy in equity is warranted; and (4) that the public interest would not be disserved by a permanent injunction.” eBay Inc. v. MercExchange, L.L.C., 547 U.S. 388, 391 (2006). The moving party “bears the burden of producing evidence sufficient to convince the court that [the preliminary injunction factors weigh in favor of granting an injunction.]” Bus Air, LLC v. Woods, No. CV 19-1435-RGA-CJB, 2019 WL 6329046, at *7 (D. Del. Nov. 26, 2019) (citing ECRI v. McGraw-Hill, Inc., 809 F.2d 223, 226 (3d Cir. 1987)), report and recommendation adopted 2019 WL 8137577 (D. Del. Dec. 17, 2019). “[T]he decision whether to grant or deny injunctive relief rests within the equitable discretion of the district courts, and ... such discretion must be exercised consistent with traditional principles of equity[.]” eBay, 547 U.S. at 394.

E. Pre-Judgment Interest

28. Upon a finding of damages, Shure may recover its costs and pretrial interest on damages. Rule 54 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure states that “[u]nless a federal statute, these rules, or a court order provides otherwise, costs—other than attorney’s fees—should be allowed to the prevailing party.” “Prejudgment interest shall ordinarily be awarded absent some justification for withholding such an award.” Nickson Indus., Inc. v. Rol Mfg. Co., Ltd., 847 F.2d 795, 800 (Fed. Cir. 1988) (quoted source omitted). “[P]rejudgment interest should be awarded from the date of infringement to the date of judgment.” Id.

F. Post-Judgment Interest

29. Section 1961(a) of Title 28 of the United States Code states that “interest shall be allowed on any money judgment in a civil case recovered in a district court.” 28 U.S.C. § 1961(a). “Post judgment interest is awarded on monetary judgments recovered in all civil cases,” including ones for patent infringement. Transmatic, Inc. v. Gulton Indus., Inc., 180 F.3d 1343, 1347 (Fed. Cir. 1999). Post-judgment interest is governed by regional circuit law. Id. at 1348. In the Third Circuit, interest begins to accrue on the date of the entry of judgment. Loughman v. Consol-Pennsylvania Coal Co., 6 F.3d 88, 97 (3d Cir. 1993). Courts in this District routinely award post-judgment interest in patent infringement cases. See nCUBE Corp. v. SeaChange Int’l, Inc., 313 F. Supp. 2d 361, 392 (D. Del. 2004), aff’d, 436 F.3d 1317 (Fed. Cir. 2006) (awarding post-judgment interest to patentee for defendant’s willful infringement); TruePosition Inc. v. Andrew Corp., 611 F. Supp. 2d 400, 414 (D. Del. 2009), aff’d, 389 F. App’x 1000 (Fed. Cir. 2010) (awarding post-judgment interest for patent infringement).

G. Costs

30. Pursuant to Rule 54(d) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, costs should be allowed to the prevailing party. Under 28 U.S.C. § 1920, the prevailing party may recover the following costs: (1) fees of the clerk and marshal; (2) fees for printed or electronically recorded transcripts necessarily obtained for use in this case; (3) fees and disbursements for printing and witnesses; (4) fees for exemplification and the costs of making copies of any materials where the copies are necessarily obtained for use in the case; (5) docket fees under 28 U.S.C. § 1923; and (6) compensation of court appointed experts, compensation of interpreters, and salaries, fees, expenses, and costs of special interpretation services under 28 U.S.C. § 1828.

II. ISSUES ON WHICH CLEARONE BEARS THE BURDEN OF PROOF

31. ClearOne cannot prove by clear and convincing evidence that the sole claim of the '723 patent is invalid under 35 U.S.C. §§ 102, 103, 112, or 115.

32. Every issued patent claim is presumed valid. 35 U.S.C. § 282. The presumption of validity “exists at every stage of the litigation.” Canon Computer Sys., Inc. v. Nu-Kote Int'l, Inc., 134 F.3d 1085, 1088 (Fed. Cir. 1998). A challenger bears the burden of establishing the invalidity of each asserted claim. Id.; see also Microsoft Corp. v. i4i Ltd. P'ship, 564 U.S. 91, 95 (2011). Design patents enjoy the same presumption of validity as utility patents under 35 U.S.C. § 282. L.A. Gear, Inc. v. Thom McAn Shoe Co., 988 F.2d 1117, 1123 (Fed. Cir. 1993).

33. Invalidity must be proven by clear and convincing evidence. Takeda Chem. Indus. v. Alphapharm Pty., Ltd., 492 F.3d 1350, 1355 (Fed. Cir. 2007); Glaxo Grp. Ltd. v. Apotex, Inc., 376 F.3d 1339, 1348 (Fed. Cir. 2004). Accordingly, the sole claim of a design patent is presumed to be valid unless the defendant proves by clear and convincing evidence that it is invalid. That burden remains on the defendant, as the patent challenger, at all times. Eurand, Inc. v. Mylan Pharms., Inc. (In re Cyclobenzaprine Hydrochloride Extended-Release Capsule Pat. Litig.), 676 F.3d 1063, 1077-78 (Fed. Cir. 2012).

34. The clear-and-convincing evidence standard is meant to convey a significant additional burden for the party challenging validity. Buildex, Inc. v. Kason Indus., Inc., 849 F.2d 1461, 1463 (Fed. Cir. 1988). The Federal Circuit has likened the standard to “well-nigh irrefragable” proof, which is “evidence that cannot be refuted or disproved; incontrovertible, incontestable, indisputable, irrefutable, undeniable.” Am-Pro Protective Agency, Inc. v. United States, 281 F.3d 1234, 1240 (Fed. Cir. 2002) (internal quotation marks omitted).

35. The ordinary observer test, the test used for design patent infringement, is “the sole test for anticipation” under 35 U.S.C. § 102. Int'l Seaway Trading Corp. v. Walgreens Corp., 589 F.3d 1233, 1239-40 (Fed. Cir. 2009).

36. Obviousness is determined as of the effective filing date of the claimed invention, from the viewpoint of a hypothetical person of ordinary skill in the art (“POSA”), which for design patents is sometimes referred to as the hypothetical designer of ordinary skill in the art. 35 U.S.C. § 103.

37. The factors relevant to determining the attributes of the POSA are the ““(1) educational level of the inventor; (2) type of problems encountered in the art; (3) prior art solutions to those problems; (4) rapidity with which innovations are made; (5) sophistication of the technology; and (6) educational level of active workers in the field.”” Daiichi Sankyo Co. v. Apotex, Inc., 501 F.3d 1254, 1256-58 (Fed. Cir. 2007) (quoting Envt'l Designs, Ltd. v. Union Oil Co., 713 F.2d 693, 696 (Fed. Cir. 1983)).

38. A patent claim is invalid under 35 U.S.C. § 103 only “if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains.” 35 U.S.C. § 103(a) (2006).

39. Obviousness is a question of law based on several underlying issues of fact: (1) the level of skill of the person of ordinary skill in the art; (2) the scope and content of the prior art; (3) the differences between the claimed invention and the teachings of the prior art; and (4) objective indicia of nonobviousness. KSR Int'l Co. v. Teleflex Inc., 550 U.S. 398, 406 (2007); Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 17-18 (1966). A determination of obviousness requires consideration of all four factors, “and it is error to reach a conclusion of obviousness until all those factors are considered.” Apple Inc. v. Samsung Elecs. Co., 839 F.3d 1034, 1048 (Fed. Cir. 2016) (en banc) (citing Eurand, Inc. v. Mylan Pharms., Inc. (In re Cyclobenzaprine Hydrochloride Extended- Release Capsule Patent Litig.), 676 F.3d 1063, 1075-76 (Fed. Cir. 2012)). To overcome a patent’s statutory presumption of validity, a patent challenger must prove each of the four Graham factors by clear and convincing evidence. Beckson Marine, Inc. v. NFM Inc., 292 F.3d 718, 725 (Fed. Cir. 2002).

40. “In the design patent context, the ultimate inquiry under section 103 is whether the claimed design would have been obvious to a designer of ordinary skill who designs articles of the type involved.” Durling v. Spectrum Furniture Co., 101 F.3d 100, 103 (Fed. Cir. 1996) (citing In re Rosen, 673 F.2d 388, 390, 213 (C.C.P.A. 1982)). Moreover, this inquiry “focuses on the visual impression of the claimed design as a whole and not on selected individual features.” In re Borden, 90 F.3d 1570, 1574 (Fed. Cir. 1996) (citing Petersen Mfg. Co. v. Central Purchasing, Inc., 740 F.2d 1541, 1548-49 (Fed. Cir. 1984)) (emphasis added). In applying the law of § 103 to the particular facts pertinent to the claimed design, the issue of obviousness is reviewed from the viewpoint of a designer of ordinary skill in the art to which the design pertains. In re Nalbandian, 661 F.2d 1214, 1216, 211 USPQ 782, 784 (CCPA 1981).

41. Establishing “whether one of ordinary skill would have combined teachings of the prior art to create the same overall visual appearance as the claimed design” involves a multi-step process. Apple, Inc. v. Samsung Elec. Co., 678 F.3d 1314, 1329 (Fed. Cir. 2012) (internal quotation marks and citation omitted).

42. First, there must be a primary reference which is “in existence” where “the design characteristics [] are basically the same as the claimed design.” Durling, 101 F.3d at 103. The Federal Circuit has provided some guidance for determining when the reference is not basically the same, such as: (1) where the reference needs a major modification to make it look like the claimed design, Jore Corp. v. Kouvato, Inc., 117 F. App’x. 761, 763 (Fed. Cir. 2005) (citing In re Harvey, 12 F.3d 1061, 1063 (Fed. Cir. 1993)), and (2) where the court must revert to a design concept, Durling v. Spectrum Furniture Co., 101 F.3d 100, 104 (Fed. Cir. 1996) (citing In re Harvey, 12 F.3d 1061, 1064 (Fed. Cir. 1993)), instead of the visual appearance as a whole to find the references basically the same, Titan Tire Corp. v. Case New Holland, Inc., 566 F.3d 1372, 1383-84 (Fed. Cir. 2009) (cautioning courts from focusing on searching for a specific element, or point of novelty, in the primary reference).

43. Second, “other references may be used to modify [the primary reference] to create a design that has the same overall visual appearance as the claimed design.” Apple, 678 F.3d at 1329 (alteration in original) (quoting Durling, 101 F.3d at 103). The “secondary references[, however,] may only be used to modify the primary reference if they are so related [to the primary reference] that the appearance of certain ornamental features in one would suggest the application of those features to the other.” Durling, 101 F.3d at 103 (alteration in original) (internal quotation marks and citation omitted). Additionally, the “teaching of prior art designs may be combined only when the designs are ‘so related that the appearance of certain ornamental features in one would suggest the application of those features to the other.’” Borden, 90 F.3d at 1575 (emphasis added).

44. Finally, if appropriate, the primary reference and any secondary references are combined together into a single prior art reference for comparison with the claimed design. See Int'l Seaway Trading Corp. v. Walgreens Corp., 589 F.3d 1233, 1240 (Fed. Cir. 2009). “Once that piece of prior art has been constructed, obviousness, like anticipation, requires application of the ordinary observer test, not the view of one skilled in the art.” Id.

45. As with utility patents, obviousness is not determined as if the designer had hindsight knowledge of the patented design. L.A. Gear, Inc. v. Thom McAn Shoe Co., 988 F.2d 1117 (Fed. Cir. 1993); see also Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 36 (1966) (internal quotation marks omitted); Procter & Gamble Co. v. Teva Pharm. USA, Inc., 566 F.3d at 997; Ecolochem, Inc. v. S. Cal. Edison Co., 227 F.3d 1361, 1371-72 (Fed. Cir. 2000).

46. For a claim to be obvious, the POSA must “have been motivated to combine the teachings of the prior art references to achieve the claimed invention.” Procter & Gamble Co. v. Teva Pharm. USA, Inc., 566 F.3d at 994 (internal quotation marks omitted); KSR Int'l Co. v. Teleflex Inc., 550 U.S. 398, 418-19 (2007); Innogenetics, N.V. v. Abbott Labs., 512 F.3d 1363, 1373-74 (Fed. Cir. 2008). When the patented design is a combination of selected elements in the prior art, “to support a rejection of a design patent application under 35 U.S.C. § 103, the teachings of references must be such as to have suggested the overall appearance of the claimed design.” In re Cho, 813 F.2d 378, 382 (Fed.Cir.1987) (citing Rosen, 673 F.2d at 390). “Thus, if the combined teachings suggest only components of the claimed design but not its overall appearance, a rejection under section 103 is inappropriate.” Id.

47. “[T]o establish a prima facie case of obviousness based on a combination of elements in the prior art, the law requires a motivation to select the references and to combine them in the particular claimed manner to reach the claimed invention.” Eli Lilly & Co. v. Zenith Goldline Pharm., Inc., 471 F.3d 1369, 1379 (Fed. Cir. 2006). In other words, the party alleging obviousness must prove that the POSA would have had an affirmative reason to both select particular features of the prior art and to modify or combine those features to achieve those inventions. See, e.g., Unigene Labs., Inc. v. Apotex, Inc., 655 F.3d 1352, 1361 (Fed. Cir. 2011). If prior art designs are to be modified in more than one respect to render a claimed design obvious, then those modifications must be “de minimis” in nature and unrelated to the overall aesthetic appearance of the design. In re Harvey, 12 F.3d 1061, 1065 (Fed. Cir. 1993) (citing In re Carter, 673 F.2d 1378, 1380 (C.C.P.A. 1982)).

48. Each prior art reference must be considered in its entirety; a party may not cherry-pick portions of references based on their relevance to the claim. It is improper to “pick and choose from any one reference only so much of it as will support a given position, to the exclusion of other parts necessary to the full appreciation of what such reference fairly suggests to one skilled in the art.”” Bausch & Lomb, Inc. v. Barnes-Hind/Hydrocurve, Inc., 796 F.2d 443, 448 (Fed. Cir. 1986) (quoting In re Wesslau, 353 F.2d 238, 241 (C.C.P.A. 1965)).

49. To rebut an allegation of obviousness, a patentee may refute the elements of the prima facie case. Thus, even where the prior art discloses each of the claimed elements, a patentee can establish that the invention would not have been prima facie obvious by showing that the POSA would have been motivated or had reason not to make the invention. Star Scientific v. R.J. Reynolds Tobacco Co., 655 F.3d 1364, at 1375.

50. The patentee may also refute the prima facie case through evidence of secondary considerations of non-obviousness. See Transocean Offshore Deepwater Drilling, Inc. v. Maersk Drilling USA, Inc., 699 F.3d 1340, 1348 (Fed. Cir. 2012) (affirming jury’s decision finding claims non-obvious, despite it having been established as a matter of law that the prior art taught “every limitation of the asserted claims and provide[d] a motivation to combine their respective teachings,” because the patentee “presented compelling objective evidence of nonobviousness”).

51. “Objective indicia of nonobviousness must be considered in every case where present.” Apple, 839 F.3d at 1048. A court’s reliance on objective indicia of nonobviousness helps “guard against slipping into use of hindsight.” Graham, 383 U.S. at 36 (internal quotation marks omitted). Objective indicia “must be considered before a conclusion on obviousness is reached and is not merely ‘icing on the cake.’” Hybritech Inc. v. Monoclonal Antibodies, Inc., 802 F.2d 1367, 1380 (Fed. Cir. 1986). Rather, objective indicia are “independent evidence of nonobviousness.” Ortho-McNeil Pharm., 520 F.3d at 1365. Id. Indeed, objective indicia “may often be the most probative and cogent evidence” of nonobviousness. Stratoflex, Inc. v. Aeroquip Corp., 713 F.2d 1530, 1538 (Fed. Cir. 1983).

52. For “the evidence to be given substantial weight in an obviousness decision,” there must be “a nexus between the merits of the claimed invention and” the objective indicia of nonobviousness. Muniacution, Inc. v. Thomson Corp., 532 F.3d 1318, 1327 (Fed. Cir. 2008) (quotation marks and citation omitted), overruled in part on other grounds by Akamai Techs., Inc. v. Limelight Networks, Inc., 797 F.3d 1020 (Fed. Cir. 2015). The patent challenger bears the burden of clearly and convincingly proving the obviousness of the claimed invention in light of all the evidence, including objective indicia of nonobviousness. In re Cyclobenzaprine Hydrochloride Extended-Release Capsule Patent Litig., 676 F.3d at 1077-79.

53. Relevant objective indicia of nonobviousness may arise after the filing of the patent, and need not be described in the specification. See Genetics Inst. LLC v. Novartis Vaccines & Diagnostics, Inc., 655 F.3d 1291, 1307-08 (Fed. Cir. 2011) (“[I]t would be error to prohibit a patent applicant or patentee from presenting relevant indicia of nonobviousness, whether or not this evidence was available or expressly contemplated at the filing of the patent application.”).

54. The Federal Circuit has consistently held that any objective indicia of nonobviousness presented by a patentee can only strengthen, not weaken, a conclusion of nonobviousness, since such evidence is not a requirement for patentability. See Miles Labs., Inc. v. Shandon Inc., 997 F.2d 870, 878 (Fed. Cir. 1993) (“[The patentee] did not show objective indicia of non-obviousness. Such evidence, if present, would weigh in favor of non-obviousness, although the lack of such evidence does not weigh in favor of obviousness.”).

55. “Copying may indeed be another form of flattering praise for inventive features.” Crocs, Inc. v. Int'l Trade Comm'n, 598 F.3d 1294, 1311 (Fed. Cir. 2010). The fact that a competitor copied technology suggests how it is nonobvious. WBIP, LLC v. Kohler Co., 829 F.3d 1317, 1336 (Fed. Cir. 2016). Evidence of copying relevant to secondary considerations of nonobviousness may be shown, for example, evidence that the competitor analyzed the strengths of the patented design in comparison to its own approach and opted to copy the patented design. Plantronics, Inc. v. Aliph, Inc., 724 F.3d 1343, 1356-57 (Fed. Cir. 2013).

56. “Commercial success is relevant because the law presumes an idea would successfully have been brought to market sooner, in response to market forces, had the idea been obvious to persons skilled in the art.” Merck & Co. v. Teva Pharm. USA, Inc., 395 F.3d 1364, 1376 (Fed. Cir. 2005). Evidence of commercial success can be the most probative evidence of nonobviousness in the record. Truswal Sys. Corp. v. Hydro-Air Eng'g, Inc., 813 F.2d 1207, 1212 (Fed. Cir. 1987) (citing Stratoflex, 713 F.2d at 1538).

57. “A prima facie case of nexus is generally made out when the patentee shows both that there is commercial success, and that the thing . . . that is commercially successful is the invention disclosed in and claimed in the patent.” Demaco Corp. v. F. von Langsdorff Licensing, Ltd., 851 F.2d 1387, 1392 (Fed. Cir. 1998). “A nexus to the design may be presumed when the patented product is coextensive with the claimed invention, i.e., it is the invention disclosed and claimed.” Campbell Soup Co. v. Gamon Plus, Inc., Nos. 20-2344 and 21-1019 (Fed. Cir. Aug. 19, 2021) (citing Fox Factory, Inc. v. SRAM, LLC, 944 F.3d 1366, 1373 (Fed. Cir. 2019)). Once the patentee has established a prima facie case of nexus, “the burden of coming forward with evidence in rebuttal shifts to the challenger.” Id. at 1393 (holding that challenger did not rebut prima facie case); see also J.T. Eaton & Co. v. Atl. Paste & Glue Co., 106 F.3d 1563, 1571 (Fed. Cir. 1997) (“If a patentee makes the requisite showing of nexus between commercial success and the patented invention, the burden shifts to the challenger to prove that the commercial success is instead due to other factors extraneous to the patented invention, such as advertising or superior workmanship.”).

58. Commercial success is “usually shown by significant sales in a relevant market.” Galderma Labs. L.P. v. Tolmar, Inc., 737 F.3d 731, 740 (Fed. Cir. 2013); see also Symbol Techs., Inc. v. Opticon, Inc., 935 F.2d 1569, 1579 (Fed. Cir. 1991).

59. “Evidence that the industry praised a claimed invention or a product that embodies the patent claims weighs against an assertion that the same claimed invention would have been obvious.” Apple, 839 F.3d at 1053-54. “Industry participants, especially competitors, are not likely to praise an obvious advance over the known art.” Id.; Power-One, Inc. v. Artesyn Techs., Inc., 599 F.3d 1343, 1352 (Fed. Cir. 2010) (“evidence of praise in the industry that specifically related to features of the patented invention” supported jury’s verdict of non-obviousness).

60. ClearOne challenges the priority date of the ’723 patent. When the alleged infringer argues invalidity by challenging the patentee’s entitlement to an earlier priority date, the alleged infringer must first show by clear and convincing evidence that the asserted patent is invalid. PowerOasis, Inc. v. T-Mobile USA, Inc., 522 F.3d 1299, 1305 (Fed Cir. 2008). When a party claims invalidity due to anticipation, the alleged infringer must present evidence that the claimed design is invalid based on prior art known or available before the filing date of the patent. See id. Once the alleged infringer has done so, the patentee must come forward with evidence that it is entitled to claim priority to an earlier filing date that predates the prior art. Id. at 1305-06.

61. An application for patent for an invention disclosed in the manner provided by section 112(a) . . . in an application previously filed in the United States, . . . , which names an inventor or joint inventor in the previously filed application shall have the same effect, as to such invention, as though filed on the date of the prior application, if filed before the patenting or abandonment of or termination of proceedings on the first application or on an application similarly entitled to the benefit of the filing date of the first application and if it contains or is amended to contain a specific reference to the earlier filed application. 35 U.S.C. § 120.

62. The test for sufficient written description, under 35 U.S.C. § 112, is “whether the disclosure of the application relied upon reasonably conveys to those skilled in the art that the inventor had possession of the claimed subject matter as of the filing date.” Ariad Pharms., Inc. v. Eli Lilly & Co., 598 F.3d 1336, 1351 (Fed. Cir. 2010). “[P]ossession” does not mean actual, physical possession of the claimed invention; the specification need only “describe an invention understandable to [the] skilled artisan and show that the inventor actually invented the invention claimed.” Ariad Pharms., 598 F.3d at 1351. “Written description is a question of fact, judged from the perspective of one of ordinary skill in the art as of the relevant filing date.” Falkner v. Inglis, 448 F.3d 1357, 1363 (Fed. Cir. 2006). In the context of design patents, “[a]s a practical matter, meeting the remaining requirements of § 112 is, in the case of an ornamental design, simply a question of whether the earlier application contains illustrations, whatever form they may take, depicting the ornamental design illustrated in the later application and claimed therein by the prescribed formal claim.” Racing Strollers, Inc. v. TRI Indus., Inc., 878 F.2d 1418, 1420 (Fed. Cir.

63. Section 112 does not require the patentee to describe unrecited elements or all compositions comprising the claimed invention; the patent's specification need only allow the POSA to recognize that the inventor possessed the claimed invention, not all potential infringing products. In re Application of Wakefield, 422 F.2d 897, 903 (C.C.P.A. 1970); see also Alcon Research Ltd. v. Barr Labs., Inc., 745 F.3d 1180, 1189 (Fed. Cir. 2014).

64. The definiteness requirements for a patent claim come from 35 U.S.C. § 112(b). See id. (“The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the inventor or a joint inventor regards as the invention.”) (emphasis added).

65. A design patent claim may potentially be indefinite if it includes multiple internally inconsistent drawings. In re Maatita, 900 F.3d 1369, 1375 (Fed. Cir. 2018). Errors and inconsistencies between drawings do not necessarily mean the claim is indefinite, however, if they “do not preclude the overall understanding of the drawing as a whole.” See id. at 1376 (citing Ex Parte Asano, 201 U.S.P.Q. 315, 317 (B.P.A.I. 1978)); see also Antonious v. Spalding & Evenflo Cos., 217 F.3d 849, 1999 WL 777450, at *8 (Fed. Cir. 1999) (unpublished) (reversing summary judgment of indefiniteness when alleged inconsistencies between drawings could have been based on perspective and were not “sufficient to preclude a person from gaining an overall understanding of the total substance of the designs”); Deckers Outdoor Corp. v. Romeo & Juliette, Inc., Case No. 2:15-cv-02812, 2016 WL 7017219, at *3-5 (C.D. Cal. Dec. 1, 2016) (holding that two patents covering a boot design met § 112’s definiteness requirement, despite the fact that some figures showed a small “v-shaped notch” on the inward-facing side of the boot and other figures arguably did not).

66. The Federal Circuit has held that it is clear that the standard for indefiniteness is connected to the standard for infringement. Maatita, 900 F.3d at 1376. In the design patent context, one skilled in the art would look to the perspective of the ordinary observer since that is the perspective from which infringement is judged. Id. at 1377. Given that the purpose of indefiniteness is to give notice of what would infringe, in the design patent context, one skilled in the art would assess indefiniteness from the perspective of an ordinary observer. Id. Thus, a design patent is indefinite under § 112 if one skilled in the art, viewing the design as would an ordinary observer, would not understand the scope of the design with reasonable certainty based on the claim and visual disclosure. Id.

DEFENDANT AND COUNTERCLAIM PLAINTIFF CLEARONE'S STATEMENT OF ISSUES OF LAW REMAINING TO BE LITIGATED

Defendant and Counterclaim Plaintiff ClearOne, Inc. (“ClearOne”) respectfully submits the following Statement of Issues of Law Remaining to Be Litigated at the November 1, 2021 trial based on ClearOne’s current understanding of the claims asserted by Plaintiff and Counterclaim Defendant Shure Incorporated and Shure Acquisition Holdings, Inc. (collectively, “Shure”), and particularly in light of the Court’s ruling at the pretrial conference on October 15, 2021, severing ClearOne’s counterclaims into a separate trial.

To the extent ClearOne’s Statement of Issues of Fact Remaining to be Litigated contains issues of law, those issues are incorporated here by reference. Likewise, should the Court determine that any issue identified in this statement is more appropriately considered an issue of fact, ClearOne incorporates such issue by reference into ClearOne’s Statement of Issues of Fact Remaining to be Litigated. By including a fact herein, ClearOne does not assume the burden of proof or production with regard to that fact. ClearOne reserves the right to revise this statement in light of the Court’s rulings and in light of Shure’s identification of issues of law and fact to be litigated. To the extent Shure intends or attempts to introduce different or additional legal arguments to those identified below, ClearOne reserves its right to contest those legal arguments and to present any and all rebuttal evidence in response to those arguments without being bound by this summary of remaining legal issues.

I. INVALIDITY OF THE ’723 PATENT

A. Issues

1. Whether ClearOne has shown by clear and convincing evidence that U.S. Patent No. D865,723 (“the ’723 patent”) cannot claim priority to the disclosure of U.S. Patent No. 9,565,493 (“the ’493 patent”) and is invalid as anticipated by Shure’s MXA910.

2. Whether ClearOne has shown by clear and convincing evidence that the design of the ’723 patent would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the alleged invention.

3. Whether ClearOne has shown by clear and convincing evidence that the '723 patent is indefinite and/or not enabled.

4. If ClearOne prevails on invalidity or non-infringement of the '723 patent, whether ClearOne is entitled to attorneys' fees and expenses under 35 U.S.C. § 285.

B. Invalidity under 35 U.S.C. § 102

5. 35 U.S.C. § 102(a) states that a person shall be entitled to a patent unless "the claimed invention was patented, described in a printed publication, or in public use, on sale, or otherwise available to the public before the effective filing date of the claimed invention." 35 U.S.C. § 102.

6. A design patent is invalid under the "on-sale bar" if, more than one year before the application was filed: "(1) [a] product embodying the claimed invention was the subject of a commercial offer for sale; and (2) the claimed invention was ready for patenting." Fisher-Price, Inc. v. Safety 1st, Inc., 109 F. App'x 387, 391 (Fed. Cir. 2004).

7. A design patent is invalid under the "public use bar" if, more than one year before the application was filed, the invention was "in public use and ready for patenting." Barry v. Medtronic, Inc., 914 F.3d 1310, 1320 (Fed. Cir. 2019), cert. denied, 140 S. Ct. 869 (2020).

8. In order for a patent to claim priority to an earlier filing date, the original application must have sufficient disclosure to support the claims. "[T]he test for sufficiency is whether the disclosure of the application relied upon reasonably conveys to those skilled in the art that the inventor had possession of the claimed subject matter as of the filing date." Ariad Pharms., Inc. v. Eli Lilly & Co., 598 F.3d 1336, 1351 (Fed. Cir. 2010).

9. For a design patent to obtain the benefit of the earlier-filed disclosure, the drawings of the application must specifically provide adequate written description. In re Owens, 710 F.3d 1362, 1366 (Fed. Cir. 2013).

C. Invalidity under 35 U.S.C. § 112

10. Under 35 U.S.C. § 112, a patent must have a clear description, enabling a person of skill in the art to make or use the invention.

11. A design patent is indefinite for purposes of § 112 “whenever its claim, read in light of the [drawings], fails to inform, with reasonable certainty, those skilled in the art about the scope of the invention.” In re Maatita, 900 F.3d 1369, 1376 (Fed. Cir. 2018).

12. “Given that the purpose of indefiniteness is to give notice of what would infringe, ... in the design patent context, one skilled in the art would assess indefiniteness from the perspective of an ordinary observer” because that is the perspective from which infringement is judged. In re Maatita, 900 F.3d 1369, 1377 (Fed. Cir. 2018). “Thus, a design patent is indefinite ... if one skilled in the art, viewing the design as would an ordinary observer, would not understand the scope of the design with reasonable certainty based on the claim and visual disclosure.” Id.

13. “A visual disclosure may be inadequate—and its associated claim indefinite—if it includes multiple, internally inconsistent drawings.” Maatita, 900 F.3d at 1375-76 (citing Times Three Clothier, LLC v. Spanx, Inc., 2014 WL 1688130 *7–9 (S.D.N.Y. Apr. 29, 2014)).

D. Invalidity under 35 U.S.C. § 103

14. Under 35 U.S.C. § 171, the Design Patent provision, a person may receive a patent for a “new, original and ornamental design.” 35 U.S.C. § 171.

15. “A patent for a claimed invention may not be obtained, notwithstanding that the claimed invention is not identically disclosed as set forth in section 102, if the differences between the claimed invention and the prior art are such that the claimed invention as a whole would have been obvious before the effective filing date of the claimed invention to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which the claimed invention pertains.” 35 U.S.C. § 103.

16. “The obviousness inquiry is whether one of ordinary skill would have combined teachings of the prior art to create the same overall visual appearance as the claimed design.” Durling v. Spectrum Furniture Co., Inc., 101 F.3d 100, 103 (Fed. Cir. 1996).

17. For design patents, the question is “whether the claimed design would have been obvious to a designer of ordinary skill who designs articles of the type involved.” Titan Tire Corp. v. Case New Holland, Inc., 566 F.3d 1372, 1380-81 (Fed. Cir. 2009), and that the obviousness inquiry “focuses on the visual impression of the claimed design as a whole and not on selected individual features,” In re Borden, 90 F.3d 1570, 1574 (Fed. Cir. 1996.) Importantly, the obviousness inquiry is limited to the ornamental aspects of the claimed design. See OddzOn Prod., Inc. v. Just Toys, Inc., 122 F.3d 1396 1406-07 (Fed. Cir. 1997) (“Invalidating prior art must show or render obvious the ornamental features of a patented design.”).

18. The obviousness inquiry is a two-step process. “First, the court must identify a single reference, a something in existence, the design characteristics of which are basically the same as the claimed design. The basically the same test requires consideration of the visual impression created by the patented design as a whole.” Then, second, “[o]nce the primary reference is found, other secondary references may be used to modify it to create a design that has the same overall visual appearance as the claimed design. These secondary references must be so related [to the primary reference] that the appearance of certain ornamental features in one would suggest the application of those features to the other.” MRC Innovations, Inc. v. Hunter Mfg., LLP, 747 F.3d 1326, 1331 (Fed. Cir. 2014).

19. An “obvious extension[s] of the prior art” to a designer with ordinary skill can support a finding of obviousness. See Grand Gen. Accessories Mfg. v. United Pac. Indus. Inc., 732 F. Supp. 2d 1014, 1025 (C.D. Cal. 2010). Slight differences between the prior art and the claimed design may not defeat a claim of obviousness, even if those differences are entirely absent from prior art designs. See MRC Innovations, Inc. v. Hunter Mfg., LLP, 747 F.3d 1326, 1333 (Fed. Cir. 2014), 1335 (“on numerous occasions we have invalidated design patents despite the inclusion of ornamental features that were entirely absent from prior art designs”).

E. Exceptional Case

20. The patent statute authorizes the Court “in exceptional cases” to award reasonable attorney fees to the prevailing party. 35 U.S.C. § 285. “This text is patently clear. It imposes one and only one constraint on district courts’ discretion to award attorney’s fees in patent litigation: The power is reserved for ‘exceptional’ cases.” Octane Fitness, LLC v. ICON Health & Fitness, Inc., 572 U.S. 545, 553 (2014). “[A]n ‘exceptional’ case is simply one that stands out from others with respect to the substantive strength of a party’s litigating position (considering both the governing law and the facts of the case) or the unreasonable manner in which the case was litigated. District courts may determine whether a case is ‘exceptional’ in the case-by-case exercise of their discretion, considering the totality of the circumstances.” Id. at 554. Entitlement to fees is established by a preponderance of the evidence. Id.

II. SHURE’S PATENT CLAIM

A. Issues

21. Whether Shure has proven by a preponderance of the evidence that ClearOne has infringed the ’723 patent through the making, use, sale, offer for sale, and importation in the United States of microphone array products, including the BMA CT, BMA CTH, COLLABORATE Versa Pro CT, COLLABORATE Versa Lite CT, COLLABORATE Versa Room CT, BMA 360, Aura

Xceed BMA, and BMA CTX (“BMA Products”).

22. Who the ordinary observer is for the ’723 patent, which ClearOne contends is either: (1) a sophisticated organizational end-user purchaser of installed audio-conferencing equipment; or (2) a specialized intermediary in the audio-visual market, such as a distributor, integrator, consultant, and installer.

23. Whether Shure has proven by a preponderance of the evidence that the BMA Products are the “article of manufacture” to which the claimed design has been applied.

24. What amount of total profits under 35 U.S.C. § 289 Shure has proven it is owned by a preponderance of the evidence from ClearOne due to ClearOne’s alleged infringement of the ’723 patent.

25. Whether Shure has established that this is an exceptional case and that it is entitled to an award of attorneys’ fees and costs under 35 U.S.C. § 285, and if so, the amount.

26. Whether Shure is entitled to permanent injunctive relief enjoining ClearOne from further infringement of the ’723 patent, or alternatively, whether it is entitled to an on-going royalty, and if so, how much.

B. Infringement

27. “[I]f, in the eye of an ordinary observer, giving such attention as a purchaser usually gives, two designs are substantially the same, if the resemblance is such as to deceive such an observer, inducing him to purchase one supposing it to be the other, the first one patented is infringed by the other.” Egyptian Goddess, 543 F.3d 665, 670 (Fed. Cir. 2008) (quoting Gorham Co. v. White, 81 U.S. 511, 528 (1871)); Samsung Elecs. Co. v. Apple Inc., 137 S. Ct. 429, 432 (2016). A patent owner must prove design patent infringement by a “preponderance of the evidence.” L.A. Gear, Inc. v. Thom McAn Shoe Co., 988 F.2d 1117, 1124 (Fed. Cir. 1993.).

28. Only the novel, ornamental features of a patented design are protected by a design patent. In other words, the scope of a design patent does not extend to any functional elements. Richardson v. Stanley Works, Inc., 597 F. 3d 1288, 1293 (Fed. Cir. 2010) (district court “properly factored out the functional aspects of Richardson’s design as part of its claim construction.”); Amini Innovation Corp. v. Anthony California, Inc., 439 F.3d 1365, 78 U.S.P.Q.2d 1147 (Fed. Cir. 2006) (“The trial court is correct to factor out the functional aspects of various design elements”). To that end, a claimed design “must be construed in order to identify the non-functional aspects of the design as shown in the patent.” Richardson, 597 F.3d at 1293; see also Egyptian Goddess, 543 F.3d at 680 (“a trial court can usefully guide the finder of fact by addressing a number of other issues that bear on the scope of the claim [such as] distinguishing between those features of the claimed design that are ornamental and those that are purely functional . . .”).

29. The “ordinary observer” test is used to determine whether a design patent is infringed: “if, in the eye of an ordinary observer, giving such attention as a purchaser usually gives, two designs are substantially the same, if the resemblance is such as to deceive such an ordinary observer, inducing him to purchase one supposing it to be the other, the first one patented is infringed by the other. Gorham Mfg. Co. v. White, 81 U.S. 511, 528, 20 L. Ed. 731 (1871); see also Egyptian Goddess, 543 F. 3d at 678. This comparison is limited to the ornamental features of a design. See, e.g., Read Corp. v. Portec, Inc., 970 F.2d 816, 825 (Fed. Cir. 1992), overruled in part on other grounds by Markman v. Westview Instruments, Inc., 52 F.3d 967 (Fed. Cir. 1995), aff’d, 517 U.S. 370 (1996) (“[A] design is composed of functional as well as ornamental features, to prove infringement a patent owner must establish that an ordinary person would be deceived by reason of the common features in the claimed and accused design which are ornamental.”); OddzOn Products, Inc. v. Just Toys, Inc., 122 F.3d 1396, 1405 (Fed. Cir. 1997) (“If . . . a design contains both functional and ornamental features, the patentee must show that the perceived similarity is based on the ornamental features of the design. The patentee must establish that an ordinary person would be deceived by reasons of the common features in the claimed and accused designs which are ornamental.” (internal quotes omitted).

30. The first step of the infringement analysis is a direct comparison of the claimed and accused designs. If a properly construed claimed design and accused design are “sufficiently distinct,” the analysis ends. Egyptian Goddess, 543 F.3d at 678. If not, then “resolution of the question whether the ordinary observer would consider the two designs to be substantially the same will benefit from a comparison of the claimed and accused designs with the prior art.” Egyptian Goddess, 543 F.3d at 678. This three-way comparison of (1) the accused design with (2) the patented design and (3) the prior art is intended to provide a frame of reference for the infringement analysis, which can help the hypothetical ordinary observer better notice differences among the designs. See Egyptian Goddess, 543 F.3d 665, 678 (“differences between the claimed and accused designs that might not be noticeable in the abstract can become significant to the hypothetical ordinary observer who is conversant with the prior art.”) The burden of production of that prior art is on the accused infringer because “[t]he accused infringer is the party with the motivation to point out close prior art, and in particular to call to the court's attention the prior art that an ordinary observer is most likely to regard as highlighting the differences between the claimed and accused design.” Egyptian Goddess, 543 F. 3d at 678. The ordinary observer is presumed to be aware of all the pertinent prior art. In re Carlson, 983 F.2d 1032 (Fed. Cir. 1993); Egyptian Goddess, 543 F.3d at 678.

31. The overall appearance of the designs must be substantially similar for infringement to be found. Infringement analysis requires a determination of whether the patented design as a whole is substantially similar in appearance to the accused design, and the patented and accused designs do not have to be identical for design patent infringement to be found. Braun Inc. v. Dynamics Corp. of Am., 975 F.2d 815, 820 (Fed. Cir. 1992). It is the visual appearance of a design as a whole, and the visual impression it creates, which is key to determining infringement. OddzOn, 122 F.3d 1396. Because the focus should be on the design as a whole, courts have cautioned against doing an “element by element” analysis. Amini Innovation Corp. v. Anthony California, Inc., 439 F.3d 1365, 1372 (Fed. Cir. 2006) (“the trial court mistakenly analyzed each element separately instead of analyzing the design as a whole from the perspective of an ordinary observer.”). I understand that the ornamental features illustrated in all figures of a design patent must be considered in the infringement analysis. See Tristar Prod., Inc. v. E. Mishan & Sons, Inc., No. CV 17-1204 (RMB/JS), 2017 WL 1404315, at *3 (D.N.J. Apr. 19, 2017).

32. Differences between the claimed and accused designs cannot be ignored. I, 836 F.2d 521, 527–28 (Fed. Cir. 1987) (“Contrary to [the patentee]’s intimation, differences between patented and accused designs are not irrelevant. Courts should take into account similarities and differences in determining ‘if in the eye of an ordinary observer, giving such attention as a purchaser usually gives, two designs are substantially the same, if the resemblance is such as to deceive such an observer, inducing him to purchase one supposing one to be the other.’”)

C. Damages¹

33. “[T]he amount of a prevailing party’s damages is a finding of fact on which the plaintiff bears the burden of proof by a preponderance of the evidence.” Smithkline Diagnostics, Inc. v. Helena Labs. Corp., 926 F.2d 1161, 1164 (Fed. Cir. 1991).

¹ ClearOne reserves the right to identify additional issues of law related to reasonable royalty damages if the Court sustains Shure’s forthcoming objection on D.I. 575.

34. Under 35 U.S.C. § 289, upon a finding of infringement of a design patent, the defendant can be liable for its total profits on the article of manufacture.

35. “[I]n the case of a multicomponent product, the relevant ‘article of manufacture’ for arriving at a §289 damages award need not be the end product sold to the consumer but may be only a component of that product.” Samsung Elecs. Co. v. Apple Inc., 137 S. Ct. 429, 431 (2016). However, the Supreme Court did not set out a “test” by which to determine whether the relevant Article of Manufacture is a component of the infringing product, or the entirety of the infringing product, but instead reasoned that “the factfinder should identify the article in which the design prominently features, and that most fairly may be said to embody the defendant’s appropriation of the plaintiff’s innovation.” Id.; Apple Inc. v. Samsung Elecs. Co., 2017 WL 4776443 at *7 (N.D. Cal. Oct. 22, 2017).

36. The following four-factor test, to assist the finder of fact in determining the appropriate article of manufacture, was proposed by the DOJ and adopted by the Northern District of California Court in its ruling in Apple v Samsung as well as other district courts. See Apple Inc. v. Samsung Elecs. Co., 2017 WL 4776443 at *8 (N.D. Cal. Oct. 22, 2017); see also Final Jury Instructions, Apple Inc. v. Samsung Electronics Co. Ltd., No. 5:11-cv-01846-LHK (N.D. Cal. May 18, 2018), p. 41; Jury Instructions, Columbia Sportswear North America, Inc. v. Seirus Innovative Accessories, Inc., No. 3:17-cv-1781-HZ (S.D. Cal. Sept. 29, 2017), p. 16. In determining the article of manufacture, the DOJ test consists of the following proposed factors that the finder of fact should look to when determining the proper article of manufacture: (1) The scope of the design claimed in the plaintiff’s patent, including the drawing and written description; (2) The relative prominence of the design within the product as a whole; (3) Whether the design is conceptually distinct from the product as a whole; and (4) The physical relationship between the patented design and the rest of the product, including whether the design pertains to a component that a user or seller can physically separate from the product as a whole, and whether the design is embodied in a component that is manufactured separately from the rest of the product, or if the component can be sold separately. Apple Inc. v. Samsung Elecs. Co., 2017 WL 4776443 at *8 (N.D. Cal. Oct. 22, 2017).

37. “If the rule be established that a design for a case enables the owner to collect damages for the case not only, but for the contents of the case as well, it will lead to results which shock the conscience.” Bush & Lan Piano Co. v. Becker Bros. (“Piano I”), 222 F. 904, 905 (2d Cir. 1915). “We are clearly of the opinion that … giving the owner of a design patent [of] a receptacle intended to hold an expensive article of manufacture the profits made on the sale of the receptacle and its contents, must certainly lead to inequitable results and cannot be sustained.” Id. at 904-905; see also Bush & Lane Piano Co. v. Becker Bros. (“Piano II”), 234 F. 79, 81-82 (2d Cir. 1916) (noting that a “[book] binding and the printed record of thought respond to different concepts; they are different articles.”).

38. The plaintiff bears both the burden of production and persuasion in identifying the article of manufacture and total profit on the sale of that article. Apple Inc. v. Samsung Elecs. Co. Ltd., No. 11-1846, 2017 WL 4776443, at *13–14 (N.D. Cal. Oct. 22, 2017); Junker v. Med. Components, Inc., No. CV 13-4606, 2021 WL 131340, at *31 (E.D. Pa. Jan. 14, 2021). If the plaintiff satisfies its burden on these issues, then the burden shifts to the defendant to produce evidence of an alternative article of manufacture and any deductible expenses. Apple Inc., 2017 WL 4776443, at *13–14; Junker, 2021 WL 131340 at *31 (citing Henry Hanger & Display Fixture Corp. of Am. V. Sel-O-Rak Corp., 270 F.2d 635, 643 (5th Cir. 1959) (“The burden of establishing the nature and amount of [deductible costs], as well as their relationship to the infringing product,

39. Profit is determined by deducting certain expenses from gross revenue. Gross revenue is all of the infringer’s receipts from using the design in the sale of the infringing products (for a single component article of manufacture) or sale of the infringing component(s) (for multi-component articles of manufacture). Shure has the burden of proving ClearOne’s gross revenue by a preponderance of the evidence. Nike, Inc. v. Wal-Mart Stores, Inc., 138 F.3d 1437, 1447-48 (Fed. Cir. 1998); Braun, Inc. v. Dynamics Corp. of Am., 975 F.2d 815, 824 (Fed. Cir. 1992); Trans-World Mfg. Corp. v. Al Nyman & Sons, Inc., 750 F.2d 1552, 1566-68 (Fed. Cir. 1984); Bergstrom v. Sears, Roebuck & Co., 496 F. Supp. 476, 495 (D. Minn. 1980).

40. Expenses can include costs incurred in producing the gross revenue, such as the cost of the goods. Other costs may be included as deductible expenses if they are directly attributable to the sales of the infringing products resulting in a nexus between the infringing products and the expense. ClearOne has the burden of proving the deductible expenses and the portion of the profit attributable to factors other than use of the infringed design by a preponderance of the evidence. Nike, Inc. v. Wal-Mart Stores, Inc., 138 F.3d 1437, 1447-48 (Fed. Cir. 1998).

41. To obtain a permanent injunction, a patent holder must show “(1) that it has suffered an irreparable injury; (2) that remedies available at law . . . are inadequate to compensate for that injury; (3) that, considering the balance of hardships between the plaintiff and defendant, a remedy in equity is warranted; and (4) that the public interest would not be disserved by a permanent injunction.” eBay Inc. v. MercExchange, L.L.C., 547 U.S. 388, 391 (2006). The moving party “bears the burden of producing evidence sufficient to convince the court that [the preliminary injunction factors weigh in favor of granting an injunction.]” Bus Air, LLC v. Woods, No. CV 19-1435-RGA-CJB, 2019 WL 6329046, at *7 (D. Del. Nov. 26, 2019) (citing ECRI v. McGraw-Hill, Inc., 809 F.2d 223, 226 (3d Cir. 1987)), report and recommendation adopted 2019 WL 8137577 (D. Del. Dec. 17, 2019). “[T]he decision whether to grant or deny injunctive relief rests within the equitable discretion of the district courts, and ... such discretion must be exercised consistent with traditional principles of equity[.]” eBay, 547 U.S. at 394.

PLAINTIFFS' WITNESS LIST

Pursuant to the Court's Amended Scheduling Order (D.I. 73), Plaintiffs Shure Incorporated and Shure Acquisition Holdings, Inc. ("Shure") hereby provide their witness list. Shure reserves the right to call as witnesses at trial individuals listed on Defendant ClearOne, Inc.'s ("ClearOne") witness list. Shure also reserves the right to object on any ground to the admissibility of the testimony of witnesses on their or ClearOne's witness list and move for the exclusion or limitation of such testimony. Finally, Shure reserves the right to amend this witness list as the case progresses in conformance with the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure and Court's orders.

DEFENDANT CLEARONE INC.'S REVISED OBJECTIONS TO PLAINTIFFS SHURE INCORPORATED AND SHURE ACQUISITION HOLDINGS, INC.'S TRIAL WITNESS LIST

Defendant ClearOne, Inc. (“ClearOne”) submits its objections to Plaintiff Shure Incorporated and Shure Acquisition Holdings, Inc.’s (“Shure”) witness list exchanged on August 27, 2021.

ClearOne reserves the right to amend these objections, including to the extent it becomes aware of new facts relating to the availability of witnesses from whom Shure intends to play deposition testimony. ClearOne also reserves the right to amend these objections based upon any modifications, clarification, or new information as to what claims and defenses will be at issue at trial in this matter. ClearOne herein additionally includes objections to Shure’s deposition designations, to the extent Shure has designated deposition transcripts for witnesses that Shure did not identify on its Witness List that it intended to call by deposition.

1. ClearOne objects to Shure playing any deposition testimony of Derek Graham that was provided in his individual capacity or outside the scope of topics he was designated for pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 30(b)(6) because ClearOne is making him

- an available live witness at trial. See Fed. R. Civ. P 32. In addition, Shure did not identify on its Witness List that it intended to play his deposition testimony.
2. ClearOne objects to Shure playing any deposition testimony of Zee Hakimoglu, because Shure did not identify on its Witness List that it intended to play her deposition testimony. Ms. Hakimoglu will be an available witness at trial.
 3. To the extent Shure's allegations of false advertising against ClearOne are presented at trial either through Shure's affirmative claims or defenses, ClearOne will make Jason Ambion available as live witnesses at trial, thus making Shure's playing of his deposition testimony improper. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 32. In addition, Shure did not identify on its Witness List that it intended to play his deposition testimony.
 4. Jason DiCampello resides and regularly transacts business within 100 miles of Wilmington, Delaware and is thus an available witness. ClearOne thus objects to the Shure's playing of his deposition testimony. See Fed. R. Civ. P. 32. In addition, Shure did not identify on its Witness List that it intended to play his deposition testimony.
 5. ClearOne objects to Shure's designation of Ashanti Long as a "May Call" witness. Mr. Long will not be an available witness at trial. ClearOne further objects to Shure's deposition designations for Mr. Long, because Shure did not identify Mr. Long on its Witness List as a witness for whom it would play deposition testimony.
 6. ClearOne objects to Shure's designation of Narsi Narayanan as a "May Call" witness. Mr. Narayanan will not be an available witness at trial. ClearOne further objects to Shure's deposition designations for Mr. Narayanan, because Shure did not identify Mr. Narayanan on its Witness List as a witness for whom it would play deposition testimony.
 7. ClearOne objects to Shure's designation of John Schnibbe as a "May Call" witness. Mr. Schnibbe will not be an available witness at trial. ClearOne further objects to Shure's deposition designations for Mr. Schnibbe, because Shure did not identify Mr. Schnibbe on its Witness List as a witness for whom it would play deposition testimony.

8. ClearOne objects to Shure playing any deposition testimony of any Shure witness who is available for trial. In particular, ClearOne understands that Shure currently intends to bring John Miller and James Schanz to trial. For that reason, Shure should not be able to play their depositions. Indeed, Shure did not mark on its Witness List that it would play their depositions. ClearOne objects to the playing of their depositions for this reason, as well.
9. ClearOne objects to Shure playing of any deposition testimony of Stephen Durham, who Shure did not identify on its Witness List. In addition, Shure has not shown that he is an unavailable witness for trial.
10. ClearOne objects to Shure playing any deposition testimony of Todd Peden, who Shure did not identify on its Witness List. In addition, Shure has not shown that he is an unavailable witness for trial.
11. ClearOne objects to Shure playing any deposition testimony of Edgar Thurmond, who Shure did not identify on its Witness List.
12. ClearOne objects to Shure playing any deposition testimony of Darrin Thurston, who Shure did not identify on its Witness List.
13. ClearOne objects to Shure playing of any deposition testimony of Robert Klegon, who Shure identified on its Witness List for that purpose, but for whom Shure has not submitted any deposition designations.
14. ClearOne objects to Shure playing any deposition testimony of Michael Maselbas, who Shure identified on its Witness List for that purpose, but for whom Shure has not submitted any deposition designations.
15. ClearOne objects to Shure playing any deposition testimony of Matthew Morrow, who Shure identified on its Witness List for that purpose, but for whom Shure has not submitted any deposition designations.
16. ClearOne objects to Shure playing any deposition testimony from Richard Kessler, to the extent Shure has not shown, or cannot show, that he is an unavailable witness.

17. ClearOne objects to Shure playing any deposition testimony from Michael Wilson, to the extent Shure has not shown, or cannot show, that he is an unavailable witness.

DEFENDANT CLEARONE INC.'S TRIAL WITNESS LIST

Defendant ClearOne, Inc. (“ClearOne”) submits this trial witness list pursuant to Local Rule 16.3(c)(7) and Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 26(a)(3)(A).

ClearOne intends to call some, or all, of the following witnesses to testify at trial. An asterisk (*) is placed next to the names of those witnesses whom ClearOne may call only if the need arises. And a carrot (^) identifies that ClearOne presently intends to offer live testimony from the witness—the absence of a carrot indicates that ClearOne presently intends to offer testimony through deposition.

ClearOne reserves the right to modify or supplement this list before or during trial. ClearOne further reserves the right to call rebuttal witnesses as necessary, including witnesses not disclosed below. ClearOne also reserves the right to amend this list—including the designation of whether ClearOne will call the witness live or by deposition—after Shure identifies which witnesses it intends to make available at trial. ClearOne also reserves its right to offer testimony from any witness listed on Shure’s exhibit list.

- A = authenticity (Fed. R. Evid. 901-903)
- AF = assumes facts not in evidence
- B = best evidence (Fed. R. Evid. 1001-1008)
- E = expert opinion (Fed. R. Evid. 701-03)
- H = hearsay (Fed. R. Evid. 801-05)
- IH = incomplete hypothetical
- LC = calls for legal conclusion or opinion

- LF = lacks foundation
- ME = mistakes evidence or witness's testimony
- P = prejudice (Fed. R. Evid. 403)
- R = relevance (Fed. R. Evid. 401-02)
- SP = calls for speculation
- O = other (e.g., embedded objections to discovery requests)
- V = vague and ambiguous, compound, asked and answered, or lacks a question
